HERBERT ANSCOMB ENTERS MAYORALTY CONTEST

KINGDOM OF ROMANIA IN CONFUSION

State of Acute Political Turmoil Follows Sudden and Dramatic Resignation of Bratianu Ministry

PARTY INDIGNANT AT REGENCY'S ACT

Leader of Peasant Party Is Probable Successor to Premiership—May Scrap $250,000,000 Loan

BUCHAREST, Nov. 3.—Rumania was thrown into a state of acute political turmoil today by the sudden and dramatic resignation of the Bratianu Government on the eve of the conclusion of a $250,000,000 stabilization loan in which American capital was to participate.

The crisis appears to have been precipitated by the desire of the Peasant party, which constitutes 80 per cent of the voters in Transylvania, to participate freely in the elections, on December 1, of Rumania's annexation of Transylvania, the regency realizing that, without the Peasants' co-operation, the celebration would be a failure.

The Peasant party executives had already served an ultimatum on the regency that the party would have no dealings with the Government in any form and would repudiate the stabilization loan if it came into power.

The regency yesterday gave Vintila Bratianu, who succeeded to the premiership after the death of his more famous brother, Ion Bratianu, a time limit up to December 1 in which to resign. The premier argued that the stabilization loan was paramount even to the Transylvanian celebrations and would fall if the Government refused to accept it.

However, insisted that M. Bratianu must make a decision. This regency council is composed of Prince Nicholas, son of Queen Marie, Patriarch, Stretes and M. Buzdovan, who rule Rumania in the name of the seven-year-old king, Michael.

Astonished and indignant at the regency's change of attitude toward the powerful Liberal party, Premier Bratianu after conferring with his colleagues far into the night, decided to resign.

Jules Maniu, the suave, quiet-spoken Transylvanian lawyer and popular leader of the Peasant party, will probably be asked to form a cabinet. In such an event it is thought certain he will scrap the stabilization loan, while he has thought that its terms are too onerous for Rumania's depleted finances.

Parliament of Britain Will Meet On Tuesday Next

LONDON, Nov. 3.—The Anglo-French naval compromise probably will be one of the chief questions raised by critics of the Baldwin Government after the opening of Parliament on November 6. The King will open the new session, which will be the last before the general election, at noon Tuesday, with the usual ceremonial.

HOOVER AND SMITH MAKE LAST APPEAL

Democratic Candidate Emphasizes Prohibition Issue—Republican Dwells on Tariff Protection

NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—Pacing the last stages of his campaign, Alfred E. Smith tonight summed up in one speech all the charges he has hurled at the Republicans between Massachusetts and Montana, and declared in his opinion the time was at hand when the American people wanted a change in the administration at Washington.

STRONG CONTRAST IN SPEECHES' TONE

NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—Pacing the last stages of his campaign, Alfred E. Smith tonight summed up in one speech all the charges he has hurled at the Republicans between Massachusetts and Montana, and declared in his opinion the time was at hand when the American people wanted a change in the administration at Washington.

PROHIBITION ISSUE

The Governor, in the sweeping round-up of his position on various issues, reiterated a demand for a change from prohibition, and again promised to take this issue to the American people. He argued that two duties with respect to the laws on this subject devolved upon the President. These he set forth as follows:

PULL OF "PUBS" IS DIMINISHED

British Excise Statistics Show Decline in Consumption of Beer and Spirits

LONDON, Nov. 3.—(U.P.) Britain is showing an amazing decline in the consumption of beer and spirits. The drop is attributed to a change of habits rather than to any campaign of moral revival. The country has drifted away from the public houses without actually realizing it. The complete change that has come over the average man's existence since 1900 has diverted thousands of pounds sterling from the till of the "pub."

Shot by Woman

PORTLAND, Nov. 3.—Detectives arrested Ralph E. Harper, about twenty-five, here today on a warrant from Vancouver, charging him with "unlawfully causing grievous bodily harm." Harper had an unhelmeted gunshot wound in his right shoulder.

Court Orders Sale

VANCOUVER, Nov. 3.—Sale of a shingle mill at Palisier and timber limits in the Yoho Valley, of the Palisier Timber & Manufacturing Company Limited has been ordered on February 14 next by Mr. Justice D. A. Macdonald in Supreme Court at the suit of Montreal Trust Company and Calvin Fentress, of Chicago.

Threat Over Telephone

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 3.—A threat upon the life of Bert Ramsey, special investigator for the County Efficiency Bureau, who uncovered much of the evidence upon which District Attorney Asa Keyes and seven other defendants have been indicted for giving and receiving bribes in obtaining acquittal of defendants in the Julian Petroleum stock overture trial, was received by him in an anonymous telephone call today. Although Ramsey declared he did not take the threat seriously, other authorities took measures to protect him.

BETTING TAX LAW CLOUDED BY COURT

LONDON, Nov. 3.—Mr. Winston Churchill's new famous betting tax, to which he has clung with such tenacity in spite of the protests and financial juggling of British bookmakers, is in peril. By a majority judgment the Court of Appeal has allowed the appeal of the Stadium Club, the effect of which is that the club will not have to pay a betting tax as it has become a member of a club running a pari-mutuel system, and that furthermore clubs can convert themselves into similar organizations. They are demanding that Churchill should be forced to change places. "Dean Inge did not hear the speeches made at the London synod," the Bishop continued. "All the speakers expressed their willingness to obey my directions when they are given. They will be issued in January. The adverse vote of the synod was due to the dislike of the 1928 prayer book from the diametrically opposite viewpoints."

Youth Disappears

SEATTLE, Nov. 3.—Another visitor at the Bremerton navy yard from the east coast has dropped from sight and Seattle police have been asked to hunt for him. The report of the missing youth, Steven O'Byrne, nineteen, was made by Lieutenant F. W. Rasch, of the navy yard, with whom he has been staying. Rasch said the boy had been homesick and he may have started eastward.

New Mayoralty Candidate

MR. Herbert Anscomb, chartered accountant. The announcement that Mr. Herbert Anscomb will be a candidate for mayor assumes the electorate of Victoria of a spirited campaign in the forthcoming civic election. With a triangular contest not only for the mayoralty but also for police commission, keen interest will be taken this year in the outcome of the voting at the polls and also in the election meetings preceding the day of voting. Mr. Anscomb was for three years reeve of Oak Bay, and during his term of office brought about an eight-mill reduction in the taxes.

Assassin of Obregon Tells of His Torture By Police in Prison

SAN ANGELO, Mexico, Nov. 3.—Charges that he was tortured by police after his arrest in an effort to force him to confess that others were implicated in the slaying of President-elect Obregon, were made by Jose de Leon Toral at his trial today. The assassin of the president-elect told the judge and jury that he was tortured. He said on cross-examination that he was hanged by the thumbs, that his body was stretched upon an improvised rack and that other "horrible tortures" were used, which he was able to endure "by the grace of God."

Toral said that he never suffered such intense pain as when his body was stretched upon an improvised rack hanging by arms and feet in police headquarters. He declared that he was then hung by his thumbs. One thumb slipped from the rope and he was left hanging by the other one. He asserted that he was again hung up with a rope around his chest so that he could hardly breathe. He then went into detail of other tortures which he declared were inflicted upon him. The police have always denied that any torture was used in handling Toral, although he was severely beaten by spectators after he had shot Obregon.

TRIANGULAR RACE FOR CHIEF CIVIC OFFICE ASSURED

CONSERVATIVE CANDIDATE IS TO BE CHOSEN

Ward Delegates Will Meet Monday in Convention to Select Nominee for Victoria in By-Election

GREAT INTEREST SHOWN IN CHOICE

The Conservative nominating convention for the Victoria by-election, to fill the seat vacated by Hon. S. P. Tolmie when he resigned on the eve of the provincial election campaign, will be entirely open to receive nominations from the floor. The issue will be left entirely free to the selected delegates, who are resolved to place a candidate in the field to oppose Dr. J. D. MacLean, who was chosen on Tuesday to represent the Liberal party in this election. There is no expectation that influences which have been brought to bear to give a return by acclamation on this occasion will be predominant in the convention, in view of the fact that the seat has been consistently Conservative since 1908, with the exception of the Union Government election of 1917, when Dr. Tolmie was first returned. The party is well organized, and has recently emerged from a successful contest at the provincial field, and that it faces the by-election with assurance.

MR. BOWSER'S ATTITUDE

Mr. W. J. Bowser, former provincial Premier, whose name has been mentioned as a probable candidate for the Victoria by-election, has declined to allow his name to go into nomination at the convention. Speaking of this situation, Mr. Bowser says: "For personal reasons I shall be unable to accede to the requests made by many Victoria electors that I allow my name to go before the Conservative nominating convention on Monday night."

There are various reasons which actuated Mr. Bowser in reaching the conclusion, a leading one being that the climate of the East does not agree with him. He feels that to have to spend the winter months in the changeable conditions that prevail at Ottawa would not be a wise course for him to follow.

The convention, which will assemble in the Conservative rooms on Monday evening, will include the fifty delegates from each of the five wards of the city, the sitting provincial Conservative members and the executive officers of the Central Conservative Association. It is also desired that the ten alternates who have been elected from each of the wards should be in attendance so that in case there are some of the delegates unable to attend there may be a full representation provided.

Joint Meetings Urged In View of By-Election

New Entry Is Supporting No Candidate for Office, He Says—Stressing Point That Voters Are Best Qualified to Make Choice—Eleven Now in Municipal Lists

IN response to urgent appeals from many citizens, Mr. Herbert Anscomb, ex-reeve of Oak Bay, announced yesterday that he would be a candidate for mayor in the civic election which takes place on December 13. This assures the electorate of a triangular contest for this position, as Mr. John Dean, of 572 Head Street, and Alderman Percy R. Brown, of 1408 Stadacona Avenue, have already announced their candidature. The decision of Mr. Anscomb to run for the position of chief magistrate of Victoria was made following the representations of many influential delegations who wished him to run for mayor or to seek parliamentary honors at the provincial election or the forthcoming by-election for the Dominion House.

B.C. GOVERNMENT PROPOSES TO UTILIZE LANDS WITH-OUT DELAY

Treasury May Assume Some $2,000,000 of Cost of Sumas and Okanagan Works

Conferences between the Cabinet and Government officials during the last week shaped definite plans for the scaling down of land charges in the Sumas reclamation area. These will be laid before the Legislature early in the coming year, it was announced.

Relief granted under legislation passed at the last session of the House will amount to $750,000, as distributed by a relief commission headed by Bruce Dixon, dyking commissioner, it was learned. This commission's recommendations will be filed in the next few days. Meanwhile the Government is also considering the offers of private syndicates to take over the sale of the land with a view to making it productive as rapidly as possible.

IN OKANAGAN

Along with the Sumas, the Government is considering the revision of irrigation charges against land in its South Okanagan Irrigation scheme.

ACTION UPON DEATH DUTIES IS STRESSED

In the Dominion field he strongly endorsed the reconversion of the Dominion short-term bonds maturing in the near future, as tending to better financing by Canada, these liabilities being incurred in wartime expenditures.

MUNICIPAL AFFAIRS

Mr. L. P. Smith submitted the report on municipal affairs, divided into financial situation, legislation, suggestions and current movements, and alluded to the general situation with regard to municipal issues this year, the fall in price in the municipal market and lack of interest on the part of financial institutions.

Mr. Smith advised the organization to consider two issues, legislation to allow municipalities to invest in the sinking funds of other municipalities, and the standardization of financial forms looking to more ready understanding of municipal accounts.

In the former suggestion he advised caution, by carefully restricting the extent of reinvestments, and in the latter case by allowing such discretion in municipal accounts as local conditions might necessitate.

Mr. G. L. Fraser presented the report of the committee on the Better Business Bureau, proposed in Vancouver. On this issue the association has not yet gone on record.

Officers were chosen subsequently for the ensuing term, representing the Lower Mainland and Island.

The officers elected for 1928-29 were: Honorary president, Major A. Lyons; president, Lieutenant-Colonel A. M. Brown; vice-president for Victoria, Mr. R. S. Mabey; vice-president for Vancouver, Mr. C. E. Brown; Victoria executive, Messrs. H. H. Miller, H. E. Boorman and H. A. Ross; Vancouver executive, Messrs. P. Whitehead, General H. F. McDonald and L. P. Smith; secretary, Mr. J. B. Stevenson.

Lieutenant-Colonel A. M. Brown, the president, in his address, said: "I take this opportunity of congratulating the members of the association upon the progress they have made during the past year, and the satisfactory basis on which the business is now placed in spite of the somewhat restricted credit conditions through which industry has been passing on the North American continent."

CREDIT SITUATION

"An analysis of the factors which have affected credit would prove interesting. There appear to have been several contributory causes, including, in Canada:

(a) The extra amount involved in finance stock market operations consequent upon a higher value;

(b) The attractive rates available in the New York market for call money;

(c) The export of capital to finance the purchase of foreign securities; and

(d) The amount of money which has gone into mining and other development work, and which is at the moment and will continue for some time to be unproductive.

(e) The extent to which Canadian funds are employed in other markets;

(f) The large amount necessary to finance this year's crop of grain production, and the effect of the newer and slower financial machinery for its distribution to the markets of the world.

"Affecting this condition also is the undoubted desire on the part of the banks in both Canada and the United States to influence the creation of additional enterprise, instead of the diversion of all funds into the stocks of existing corporations."

MODERN BUSINESS

"In view of the possibilities of manufactures for export purposes, too much stress cannot be laid on the necessity for modernizing plant and machinery at all times, and banks and investment dealers should give particular attention to the needs of any industry requiring assistance to bring it thoroughly up to date. Out of date plant and machinery should be ruthlessly scrapped."

"I think we are all agreed in welcoming the change in controlled ownership of the B.C. Electric Railway Company and its allied and subsidiary companies. We recognize the possibilities of the company, and personally I am satisfied that the future for it is extremely bright."

"I am sorry to see that three of our municipalities have been unable to endeavor to expedite development by assisting materially in the financing of industrial enterprises. This can be a very expensive operation, and it is to be hoped that municipal authorities will recognize that essentials will materialize any way, and that there are not economic assets, but potential liabilities. That this is frowned upon generally is evidenced by the unwillingness of many dealers to encourage such financing."

"There is a growing recognition of the need of a properly constituted public utility commission within the province. Properly administered, such a commission can be of incalculable advantage to both the industry concerned and the public. This would apply not only to the larger corporations, but also to those small communities where the demand exists for modern services and which have not the usual facilities for expert financing."

"One of the problems of agricultural communities in the hinterland is that of irrigation. It would appear desirable that a provincial irrigation district board be constituted to consolidate the finances and resources of existing irrigation districts, to make available expert services for the present systems, and to administer these and arrange for extension as and when they may be required. A board constituted along the lines for the Greater Vancouver Water Board should answer the purpose satisfactorily."

SUCCESSION DUTIES

"I understand that the matter of succession duties between provinces is not yet satisfactorily solved, but that some headway has been made. The situation continues to be undesirable, and may continue so. There should be a more serious attempt made to equalize matters. The normal result of the continuance of the existing system is that one of the provinces, in order to attract capital or otherwise, may waive all succession duties. Such a policy might precipitate action and assist those responsible for the lack of uniformity to reach a satisfactory conclusion. Failing this, the matter should be taken out of the hands of the provinces and made a Dominion affair irrespective of the difficulties involved."

DOMINION FINANCE

"From the public's point of view the repayment of $33,000,000 on October 15 marks the progress made by the Dominion Government in reduction of war expenditures."

"Between now and 1935 more than twelve hundred million dollars of Dominion Government bonds mature, and will have to be met. This is too heavy an amount to be outstanding under the heading of short term bonds, and it is time that arrangements were made whereby a portion of this debt may be deferred to a longer period. This can be accomplished by a system whereby the holders of present Dominion securities can convert their holdings into longer term issues, so retaining Dominion bonds but sacrificing some annual interest for a few years in order to be assured of their income for a longer period. That this can be done with economy to the Dominion is evident from a comparison of existing yields between the short and long term Dominion bonds."

Considerable attention has been paid to the possibility of arranging a plan whereby a brokerage listing of a dealers' market can be established for fixed income securities. It is felt, though, that while this would be in the best interests of the dealers, there might be a tendency such as appears to exist in New York and other such markets, to shelve responsibility for the establishment of a secondary market for new issues, with consequent loss to the original investor."

"At the present time the method of mutually clearing securities between the dealers appears to be the most satisfactory way, especially as there is an ever-increasing number of dealers who are willing to take a definite commitment of such securities and assist their clients by acting as the intermediate absorber between seller and buyer."

"Intermittent discussions occur as to the advisability of forming a Pacific Coast section of the Investment Bankers' Association. The necessity for this is not yet obvious as the majority of the problems are rather local than national, and more independent action can be taken than if subject to approval by a central executive elsewhere."

"Continued effort will require to be made by members of the association to develop still further the regard in which they are now held. A consistent conduct of their business on ethical lines will insure success, encourage capital confidence, and assist in the upbuilding of our province. The public is realizing, to an ever increasing extent, that their interests are best served by dealers whose future is most identified with the community in which they operate, and nothing will be attempted which will, in any way, weaken their confidence."

SYDNEY, N.S.W., Nov. 3.—Reports from Thursday Island off Queensland, state that the Japanese steamer Tango Maru, bound for Japan, struck a rock in Ellis Channel today and is hard and fast ashore. It was feared there would be some difficulty in floating her. All passengers were safely landed.

Kills From Cowardice

NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—Vincent Rice, seventeen, confessed today, according to police, he strangled to death his fifteen-year-old sweetheart, Alice Joost, in her home in Port Richmond, Staten Island, yesterday. Police said they quarreled and Rice struck the girl with his fist so hard that she fell senseless to the floor.

Frightened, Rice seized an electric extension cord and bound it tightly about her neck.

That I promise to do to the best of my ability. The second duty is to recommend the changes deemed advisable. I will recommend to Congress the changes I have indicated in accordance with my speech of acceptance."

Reaffirming his position on the tariff, the Governor again emphasized opposition to a general revision of the tariff laws. He said more than "ninety per cent" of the Democratic candidates for Congress had approved his position.

MR. HOOVER'S ADVICE

By W. B. RAGSDALE

Associated Press Staff Writer.

PUEBLO, Colo., Nov. 3.—Herbert Hoover in the last set speech of his Western campaign swing, counseled a group of Colorado people who met him here tonight that they should not distrust the Democrats with tariff revision.

Leaving his train to make a brief talk here after a day of acclamations in the towns through which he passed, the Republican Presidential candidate declared that in the whole of the campaign, "we have not heard from any representative of the Democratic party respoonding to the complete acceptance of the term 'protective tariff' as defined by the Republican party; and as a matter of fact, the Democratic candidates for Congress are pledged by their party platform to another 'competitive tariff'."

The nominee reviewed the workings of the Underwood Tariff Act, enacted under a Democratic administration, which, he said, had crippled Colorado industries.

CHECK UP PERSONNEL

"If the people of Colorado will check up the prospective Democratic personnel of the next House Ways and Means Committee, they will find the membership will comprise much the same leaders who wrote the Underwood tariff, and who opposed the Republican tariff," he said.

"In 1922 they voted against all the provisions of the Republican party for protection of the industries of Colorado. They have continuously preached against it, and as late as nine months ago nearly all of them voted to bring about the reduction of the tariff."

A crowd, the largest he had seen since leaving St. Louis last night, had assembled in front of the railroad station, and it cheered wildly as the candidate appeared on the platform that had been set up. Hoover declared that a decreased standard of living in America would lessen the demand for Colorado products and force them to compete in the foreign markets with goods produced with cheaper labor.

Then he turned to a rehearsal of Republican achievements, enumerating the peace treaties, the armament limitation, the Kellogg treaty for outlawry of war, reduction of unemployment, tax reduction, protective tariffs, and immigration laws, vetoes of tariff legislation, highways and inland waterways.

HOOVER WIN IS INDICATED

In an attempt to discover the direction of the current, the United Press sent this correspondent on an 11,000-mile tour, covering practically every section of the country. Scores of politicians and persons in various walks of life were questioned. Registration figures and such election statistics as indicated any trend were carefully analyzed. The result is that a large element of doubt is still left.

The United Press correspondent believes the following is a conservative summary of the situation today as far as it can be forecast, without guessing blindly.

Likely to go Hoover: 250 electoral votes, with sixteen more needed to win.

Likely to go Smith: 150 electoral votes, with 107 more needed to win. Doubtful states, with some leaning one way and some the other: 122.

In other words, out of thirteen doubtful states, Hoover must win sixteen electoral votes or Smith 107 to win the election.

McBride Club Plans Dinner For Dr. Tolmie

The members of the McBride Conservative Club will tender a reception to Premier Tolmie on the evening of Wednesday, November 14, in the clubrooms of the organization. The function will take the form of a dinner, which will be served at 6:30 o'clock, and which will be followed by a dance.

In connection with the dinner there will be the opportunity afforded to hear Hon. S. P. Tolmie in an address before the gathering. Captain H. S. Thain, M.C., the president of the club, will preside over the proceedings, and there is every promise that every seat at this banquet will be taken at an early date. It is therefore being urged upon the members to make their reservations just as soon as possible.

Triangular Race for Chief Civic Office Is Assured

In announcing his candidature Mr. Anson said he wished to make it clear that he was supporting no candidates, stressing the point that the voters are best qualified to select their own. "I am standing on my own feet and will continue to do so if elected to office," he declared.

JOINT MEETINGS

"I think that with the civic election so closely following the Dominion by-election that much can be gained by the candidates for civic office speaking at joint meetings. This will obviate a large number of meetings at which only a few would attend. It is my desire that every ratepayer take an interest in the elections and become fully conversant with the issues, and for this reason I am writing the other mayors asking them to ask that they join with me holding joint meetings," Mr. Anson said.

BUSINESS IS POLICY

"My policy is confined to the one word 'Business.' No more and no less. That is how the city's affairs should be conducted and that is the reason why I am seeking election," he continued.

The great for the majority this year will undoubtedly be a spirited one, with Mr. John Dean, last year's challenger, in the field again, and Alderman MacGavin, who has been his past record as chairman of the finance committee. Not since Mayor J. Carl Pendray first ran for office

THIRD SHAVIAN PLAY PRESENTED

Mr. Colbourne's Company Completes Week of Performances in Victoria

Last night Mr. Maurice Colbourne and his company, which was more than "all English," in the commonly accepted sense of the phrase, said goodbye to Victoria with mixed feelings of which the positive good predominated over the negative—in different.

The bad was the same bad which has tempted better-known lights of the English stage to include Victoria in their Empire tours. An official assessment of the box office takings of the non-musical shows which have come to Victoria from the Old Country would show this to be the case. For some reason there is an apathy in the city which one does not put down to lack of education, which one cannot put down to a lack of advertisement, and which one is therefore forced to attribute to an absence of general "savvy."

The facts of the case are these: Mr. Colbourne's company comes directly from England, which is, in itself, no criterion at all. But it also comes under the auspices of one of the foremost playwrights of the Empire, with the express purpose of showing his plays to the people of the Empire, performed by actors and actresses of his own choice, which anybody who has studied Shaw's methods of criticism will admit to be a very adequate criticism indeed.

Yesterday the company provided two touches of Shavian architecture. One, a cottage in the Elizabethan style, which delighted the audience for some ten or fifteen minutes. The other, "Fanny's First Play," a larger, though less solid structure, of modern treatment, which was almost as funny as any show which is offered by local companies throughout the winter season.

That the company have won the hearts of Victoria is a "fine question." The applause, which would elsewhere be described as "rapacious," attested the fact. Never has the city seen such perfectly unselfish "passing of the ball." Mr. Holloway, from the lettering of whose name on the bills one might expect a surfeit, only appeared in the preliminary playlet. Mr. Colbourne was seen last night, at all too infrequent intervals, as a very subdued maverick. Nevertheless, the performance could not have been bettered, and there is no doubt at all that Victoria will put on its best bib and tucker, and in the words of a hard who will one day be immortal, "rally round" when Mr. Colbourne brings his delightful players once again to this city.

WOOL POOL PLANNED FOR WHOLE DOMINION

TORONTO, Nov. 3.—Plans for the development of a Dominion-wide wool pool will be discussed at a conference of the Canadian Co-operative Wool Growers' Association in Edmonton this month.

Tentative marketing agreements or contracts have been drawn up in contemplation of changes in the wool handling policy by Premier Brownlee, of Alberta, the author of the wheat pool contract, if the plans are satisfactory to all concerned, a pool on the contract basis will be established for handling the 1929 clip from all provinces.

Canadian Bond Review

(Supplied by Brandon, Brown & Co., Ltd.) TORONTO, Nov. 3.—There is renewed evidence of underlying strength in the Canadian bond market in the fact that, despite dear money, prices have not sagged very much.

The city of Edmonton sold $125,000 of 5 per cent bonds, maturing in ten, fifteen, twenty and thirty years, at 99.57 and interest. This is a remarkably high price and, if the underwriters are to sell them on a 5 per cent basis to the public, they will have to be content to take less than half of one per cent profit, which would hardly be profitable after deducting legal and delivery charges. If Edmonton bonds are worth a rate of yield of 5 per cent, then it seems obvious that bonds of Eastern Canada cities would readily sell at a price to yield less than five per cent.

November 1 saw the Dominion of Canada disburse over $31,000,000 in interest. Besides this there were millions in interest paid out by other issues on the same date. This has had a tendency to combat the stiffer money that ensued during the week.

WANTED, A PREFERENTIAL TARIFF

Australia takes from the rest of the world in lumber imports annually some 800,000,000 feet. Of this amount half, or 400,000,000 feet, is imported from the Baltic States. Of the remainder some 350,000,000 feet is secured from the States of Oregon and Washington. Canada's, or rather British Columbia's trade with Australia in lumber, is negligible to what it could be made provided the Commonwealth granted this country a preferential tariff on such an import. This is one particular in the Canadian-Australian Trade Treaty which is strongly for amendment. With preference of an adequate character given by Australia there is no reason why British Columbia should not export to that country each year half of what lumber the Commonwealth wants, or, in other words, 400,000,000 feet. This feature of developing Canadian trade was neglected in the original draft of the treaty.

It is only necessary to glance at the trade returns under the Canadian-Australian Trade Treaty to realize that this Dominion is not benefiting to the extent that it ought. For the last twelve months reviewed by the Department of Trade and Commerce at Ottawa, Canadian exports to Australia were little over $14,000,000 in value; whereas in one year at least before the trade treaty went into effect they had reached a value of nearly $19,000,000. On the other hand, while, on the whole, Canada's exports to Australia have declined, Australian imports to this country have shown a very satisfactory increase. They have increased from under $2,000,000 in value to nearly $6,000,000. It would seem from this that Australia is getting the best, or at least relatively the best, of the trade bargain, inasmuch as the Commonwealth's exports to this country have been more than trebled in value whereas our exports to Australia have declined by from thirty to forty per cent.

British Columbia's lumbermen want a preferential tariff of one shilling per 100 feet b.m., which would mean $2.40 per 1,000 feet. They are persuaded that if this were granted by Australia then it would not be long before the lumber trade with that country would increase rapidly until British Columbia was able to meet half the requirements of the Commonwealth. A delegation of lumbermen from this province recently waited on Mr. Robb, the Finance Minister, at Ottawa to press this request. There is no reason at all, of which we are aware, why Canada, through the Federal Government, should not open up conversations with Australia on the subject. Possibly Australia, on her part, will demand some compensating advantage, but as to what that should be constitutes a matter for negotiation when the question is raised. In the meantime the Canadian-Australian Trade Treaty undoubtedly calls for revision and amendment, particularly from the standpoint of putting this country in a better position to cater to Australia's lumber requirements. We feel certain that every interest concerned about the prosperity of one of the province's greatest industries will be only too anxious to do whatever it is possible to do to promote such a trade relationship with Australia as will give a momentum to the lumber exports from British Columbia.

RELIGIOUS EDUCATION

This British Columbia of our's prides itself on being a Christian province. The sittings of our Legislature are opened with prayer, which, in itself, is an admission that religion belongs to the ordered course and is a habit of our time and generation. Public ceremonies close, in the majority of cases, with the singing of "God Save the King," a tribute to the power of the Creator and one of loyalty to the ruling monarch. Churches are established in every community of any size; the radio carries sermons and religious injunctions into the homes; the whole tenor of human conduct is based on the idea that the power which sets up the barrier against wrong-doing is Christian in its spirit. Our code of laws is framed on the teachings of Scripture; in fact all that is essential in that code for the right governance of mankind has its origin and inspiration in the Holy Book.

At a recent convention of the School Trustees of the province the decision was reiterated, by a large majority, to continue to exclude the Bible from the schools of British Columbia. The reasons assigned for this were hardly worthy of the cause of education. After all, it is human knowledge as a whole which contributes the countless streams which flow to the fountain head of instruction. To omit the Bible from the schools is to stultify the conception of what education means. Such omission leaves an entire world of knowledge unexplored, knowledge which has a bearing on practically every relation of life and knowledge which leaves the deepest impression of all of what life means. The Scripture is, as Edmund Burke has told us, "no summary of doctrines regularly digested, in which a man could not mistake his way; it is a most venerable but most multifarious collection of the records of divine economy—a collection of an infinite variety of cosmogony, theology, history, prophecy, psalmody, morality, apologetics, allegory, legislation, ethics, carried through different books, by different authors, at different times, for different ends and purposes."

The omission of the Scriptures in the schools is the omission of a lesson of peace to mankind. How, if ever, can the League of Nations accomplish its purpose if the children of the rising generation are not taught "to seek for repose and toleration in the maternal bosom of Christian charity?" That League is fighting the air wherever and whenever religion is exorcised from the schools of any country. The only possible alliance against the powers of darkness is between man and religion. In our province the adult generations acknowledge, tacitly or openly, that religion is an indubitable force in their lives. In the schools, however, its teaching is barred, though there is hardly a phase of human knowledge that can fail to be enlightened and enriched by the study of its tenets and history. The art of living, as Ruskin said, is founded, not merely on facts but on dispositions which require to be created—on character formation, in other words. Without religion character at best is devoid of the strongest motives for ethical conduct. Religion is the disciplining of the soul, the saturation of character with the best and most sacred principles; in fact, the essence of education itself, which should aim to equip a disciplined citizen capable of fulfilling life's highest obligations.

FRUIT GROWERS AND DUMPING

Mr. R. J. Deachman, an Ottawa lawyer, says that the British Columbia fruit growers do not want anti-dumping legislation. He must know their minds better than they do themselves. They asked for anti-dumping legislation and have complained very bitterly ever since because the Dominion Government refused to grant their request. Mr. Deachman, like a good shrewd lawyer, should stick to his last, which is the law, and should not interfere in questions about which he is obviously ill informed. It is true that he is the advocate of the Consumers' League, an organization which it now appears was created at the behest of the Mackenzie King Government in order to place anti-protective resolutions before the Tariff Board.

The Consumers' League, however germane its name may be, does not represent the consumers of the country. Most assuredly it cannot represent the fruit growers of Canada because it does not know what they want for the protection of their industry. It may represent the fiscal views of the Mackenzie King Government. If it does it is a political league designed for political purposes. Whatever may be the nature of Mr. Deachman's role as lobbyist in Ottawa he should ascertain what is the attitude of the British Columbia fruit growers before he gives vent to dogmatic opinions. After all the people of British Columbia are better informed on this subject than Mr. Deachman can possibly be, since his activities seem to be cabined, cribbed and confined to the enunciation of set political dogma.

DEAD IN THE GREAT WAR

The 1928 report of the Imperial War Graves Commission places the dead of the British Empire in the Great War at 1,019,882, of whom 56,813 were from this Dominion. The bodies of those dead rest in 14,183 cemeteries. This is the latest figure given respecting the Empire's dead, but, as yet, there is no finality to the figures respecting the mortality suffered by other participating nations. One computation has it that France had 1,393,282 deaths; Belgium, 381,772; Italy, 469,000; Portugal, 7,222; Rumania, 335,706; Serbia, 1,275,535; United States, 115,660; Germany, 2,050,496; Austria and Hungary, 1,200,000; Bulgaria, 101,224 and Turkey, 300,000. On this basis of reckoning the Allied losses in dead were 3,497,565, and those of the enemy Powers, 3,651,689, or a total of 7,149,254 souls. In the foregoing figures Russia is not included. Russia's dead have been estimated at 1,700,000, a figure, which, if correct, means that nearly 9,000,000 lost their lives in the Great War.

THE KING'S ARMOR

The position of King's Armorer, now vacant through the death of Mr. Harman Oates, is no sinecure, for the collection at Windsor deservedly ranks as one of the finest and most extensive in Europe. Perhaps the most interesting piece was acquired only during the present century. It is a suit made by the great armorer, Jacob Topf, and was worn by the King's champion at the Coronation of George I. At the death of the hereditary champion, Mr. Dymock, in 1877, efforts were made to sell it at Christie's, but the reserve not being reached, it was eventually sold privately. After passing through many hands it was definitely recognized as the armor made by Topf for Sir Christopher Hatton, first captain of the guard of Queen Elizabeth. Efforts were made to secure it for presentation to Queen Victoria on her eightieth birthday, but the transaction was not completed until 1901, when it was presented to the late King Edward. It now stands in the Guard Chamber of Windsor Castle, mounted on a barbed steel, the right hand raised in the attitude of the champion throwing down the gauntlet.—A. D. C. in The London Daily Mail.

It is the common wonder of all men, how among so many million of facts there should be none alike.—Sir Thomas Brown.

Note and Comment

By R. & D.

A friend tells us we owe a humble apology to the writer of the best sea story ever written, and we have found out without being told that we owe an apology to a modern author of many sea tales of the first class. We have been told that "Braas-Bound" (we think that is the name; if it isn't it can be corrected) is the best sea story ever written. The name of the author is Bone. We know that Mr. Cutcliffe-Hyne has written many, exciting, and some furiously funny, sea stories. Captain Kettle is a bundle of energy in very compact form and a daring and skillful sea captain. When not engaged in hazardous adventures upon the sea, which was his natural element, the little man was quite at home in another element. He delighted to expound the Gospel according to the tenets of the Particular Methodists, of which denomination he was "a burning and a shining light."

Then there was MacTodd, an engineer, who was an under-water shipmate of the intrepid captain. The engineer was as skillful in his trade as his captain was in his business. Mac "loved his engine like a very dear child." He could do anything with them and they would do anything for him—even when they appeared to be past human redemption. He was a son of the Manse, and up to a certain point, a credit to the atmosphere in which he was born and bred. But his piety was spasmodic. He only became extremely religious when he was very drunk. Then he used to sing hymns, accompanying himself upon an organ of his own construction. The crew of Captain Kettle's ship did not approve of the religious services and musical performances of the chief engineer. We believe they once threatened to throw both the organ and its maker overboard if the captain refused to take measures to protect them against the dismal whinnies of Mac and the even more dismal wheezings and groanings of his distracting contraption.

MacTodd was introduced to us one day by a friend when we happened to be temporarily on the shelf as a result of some minor ailment. The kind-hearted visitor said he had brought something with him that he thought would do us good. So he proceeded to read "MacTodd in the Arctic" from cover to cover. Listening to the story of the adventures and the whinnies of Mac did us so much good that we made a miraculous recovery. We have not enjoyed so heartily a laugh since then. Unfortunately, the owner of the book valued it so highly that he carried it off with him, and we have not been able to procure a copy when thirsting for a stimulant of some kind. Mac appears to be so popular that he is never permitted to linger upon the shelves of the libraries or the book shops. It is not likely that Mr. Cutcliffe-Hyne ever will see this review of a previous statement; but if he should, we trust he will accept it as an ample apology. In the meantime we trust some day to renew our acquaintance with the eccentric MacTodd.

The captain of the Graf Zeppelin says the good ship has finished her work and her adventures because she is not thoroughly suited to the job for which she was built. She is deficient in certain essential qualities. She lacks speed and strength, which are indeed essential qualities. Those who made the hazardous trip along with the captain say the ship also lacks other essential qualities, the qualities of convenience and comfort for passengers. On the outward passage there was a scarcity of food and a shortage of water. On the inward passage, which was faster because it was made over the northern route, the passengers suffered intensely from cold. The sole woman passenger recommends all Zeppelin travellers in the future to take sleeping bags and furs with them as protection against the extremities of the weather.

Therefore the more we read about airships the more determined we become, notwithstanding the fleetness of time and the brevity of life, to travel by steamships, should it ever be our good fortune to travel again. No modern steamship ever runs short of food. All modern steamships, with the possible exception of the steamships which fly a certain well-known and popular flag, also carry an ample supply of everything that is good to drink as well as water. The traveller therefore can enjoy his food in comfort and can sleep soundly in a cozy bed if he knows how to enjoy his drink in moderation. He can also smoke tobacco until he is black in the face if he is silly enough to do it. He dare not do any of those silly but natural things on board a Zeppelin. Thus it will be understood that the Zeppelin has to undergo an over-haul, if not a revolution, before it becomes an active and effective competitor of even the steamship of moderate dimensions and speed. Anyone who is eager to experience the effect of spiritual and emotional thrills and there appear to be millions of people longing for such spasms may climb up into the "blue empyrean" if they want to do it, but we prefer to feel comfortable and secure.

THE ARION CLUB

Sir—The Arion Club will open its thirty-seventh season at the Royal Victoria Theatre on November 15. The club has been fortunate in securing Kolia Levenne, the celebrated Russian "cellist," to assist at the concert. Mr. Levenne is very highly spoken of in the leading London and New York papers. His accompanist, John Hopper, will also give piano solos.

For several weeks past the club has been rehearsing varied and attractive numbers for the concert. Associate members are requested to forward their annual subscriptions without delay. Others wishing to join as associates can do so through any member of the club, or at the office of the club at 112 Pemberton Building.

Members and the public generally will be interested to know that the Jubilee Hospital, benefited to the extent of over $200 by the collection taken up at the annual open air concert in August last.

THE MUSICAL FESTIVAL

Sir—When public attention is called to the Musical Festival, it is generally because that, either in the press or on the street or wherever two or three of a kind are gathered together, a fainting of some sort or other is feared at it. There are no doubt many reasonable objections to the system of musical festival competitions, but there are also many unquestionable benefits. The opinion of many, very highly qualified by attainments and experience to speak, is that the benefits far outweigh the objections. A public weighing of the objections. It will frequently be found that those who think otherwise look at the festival from the narrow point of view of the one particular detail in which they are individually interested, and take no interest whatever in the broad and general effect of the whole.

Vocal instructors naturally take a keen interest in solo competitions.

Jots From History

HALLOWEEN, the night when all good and bad spirits are supposed to go abroad, is celebrated on October 31, each year. Centuries ago Halloween was called "All Spirit's Day" by the pagans, and even after Christianity was adopted, the people still observed their old customs. Halloween is so called because it is the eve of the Festival of All Saints which falls on November 1.

some vocal instructors are meretricious in the pure technique of vocalism, and look at all solo work principally from that point of view. The adjudicator at the festival has laid down for him the lines on which he has to judge all competitors, for example, in vocal and choral competitions fifty marks are apportioned to interpretation and general effect, the other fifty marks being divided among five other headings, in which technique, pure and simple as such, is not mentioned, though some points which contribute to the making of good technique are, of course, absolutely essential in the highest exponents of the art; nevertheless, it is not an uncommon thing for a person to have excellent technique and yet not be able to convey satisfaction and pleasure in performance. To satisfy some vocal instructors it would be necessary to have separate classes for operatic, coloratura, lyric and ballad singers, and possibly one for vocal gymnasts. But such is beyond the scope of the ordinary musical-festival competition.

Entrants at these competitions, instructors who put them in, all have the syllabus before them and have every opportunity of knowing what these competitions are and on what principles the adjudicators act. The adjudicator's decision, like that of the umpire or referee in most well-regulated sports, is final. When the festival is over, and success has not come to everybody, why these whines and complaints?

The Victoria Musical Festival competition is surely a great asset to the cultural life of this city. Looked at in its broad general effects, it spreads the gospel of good music in hundreds of homes, it encourages individuals themselves to be performers, and, if supported and maintained, it will raise the tone and taste in the arts it fosters, and the numbers of home and corporate performers will be increasing year by year. Is it not worth while to forget all sectional and narrow interests?

The self-sacrificing and anxious labors of the executive of the association deserve all the support that it is possible to give them. The appeal to all musical people, whether as individuals or corporate bodies, to give their assistance and to encourage all possible entries, should meet a whole-hearted response in every quarter.

BRITISH COLUMBIA EGG POOL

Sir—In order to make clear the status and powers of the present provisional board of directors of the British Columbia Egg and Poultry Co-operative Association, and thereby clear up many apparent misapprehensions, the following statement has been authorized by the provisional president, Mr. R. W. Holmes.

"The directors of the present provisional board of the British Columbia Egg and Poultry Co-operative Association were chosen at the organization meeting held in the Board of Trade Chambers, Vancouver, June 29 and 30 last, by producers from the respective districts. These directors represent, and by resolution of that meeting they were empowered to take all necessary steps to organize a provincial egg and poultry pool.

In so far as the provisional board is concerned, they will consider their task as having been finished when the sign-up of contracts has reached the objective set for them by the aforesaid organization meeting.

Upon reaching this objective the provisional board will immediately call the first annual meeting of producers, submit to them its report together with contracts signed, etc., then tender its resignation and ask to be relieved of further duties, leaving all matters of policy and detail to be dealt with by the regular elected representatives of the producers and those with whom they will confer.

"The provisional board does not consider that, as such, it is competent to deal with any matters of a permanent character connected with the association, either as to personnel or detail.

"It implies that, where it is concerned, there is absolutely no assured future within the movement. For any persons now connected with the organization, nor has it any authority in matters having to do with the actual establishment and subsequent operation of the Pool."

G. M. SWAN,
New Westminster, B.C., October 27, 1928.

Do You Remember?

Conducted by Herbert Kent

"Way back in the mid-eighties, when the Russian scare was on, and various ways and means were discussed for the defence of the city? The only defence at that time was a small gunboat at Esquimalt, and the two batteries at Holland and Pausanias Points with muzzle-loading sixty-four-pounders. A public meeting was held at the City Hall, which was overcrowded with would-be defenders, who proposed, instead of joining the local militia (the B.C.B.G.A., afterwards known as the Fifth Regiment), to form an independent unit of scouts and sharpshooters, providing their own mounts. The Government to furnish arms and other equipment. Their main duties were that they had to be located on the principal eminences between Cape Beale and Victoria, and should the enemy be sighted a series of flares from mountain-tops would warn the citizens of the approach of the enemy.

During these exciting times the local militia under Major Dwyer were drilled every evening at Beacon Hill. On one occasion on the return to the drill hall, Sergeant Longley caught in the news that on Campbell's corner a notice was displayed stating war had been declared, and the men in their enthusiasm gave the cheer, and a cheer for the Queen, and threw their plibbox caps into the air, many of them landing on the rafters, to stay there till some one came to get them. A carrier, a party capless brigade went home that night.

In order to at all times be in readiness to receive the enemy, the militia had to be in uniform when not following their usual vocations, and on Sundays had to carry their arms to church, and should a sudden alarm be sounded on the fire bell, were to hurry to the drill hall. One Sunday during service the fire department, through some mistake, instead of ringing the alarm for fire rang the special alarm, the result being the emptying of the churches and a mad rush to the

Hospital Auxiliary Is An Energetic Body

Multitudinous Needs Supplied to Jubilee by Ladies' Committee, Which Also Assists Directors With Funds During Special Campaigns

The story of the outward and visible from the outward side of the Provincial Royal Jubilee Hospital is contained in the minutes of many meetings of many boards of directors from the time of the hospital's formal opening in 1920. Queen Victoria's Jubilee year, down to the present time. The history of the great part of the inward, and to most people invisible side, is wrapped up with the history of the ladies' committee and its descendant, the Women's Auxiliary, an organization known by name, if not by works, to all good citizens. What ever expansion the hospital is able to achieve in the near future, one may feel assured that the change will involve the energies of the Women's Auxiliary in some very important way.

The Women's Auxiliary, as the name implies, is an auxiliary to the board of directors. It is, however, independent in all its functions, and its own officers and executive of twenty-five, and a membership of approximately 400.

The ladies' committee, from which it evolved, was organized on July 29, 1920, the year following the opening of the Jubilee Hospital. A minute from a directors' meeting held about this time records that "a special meeting of the directors was called for the formation of a ladies' committee, a resolution being moved and carried that a committee be appointed to raise funds and obtain subscribers, chairman Mrs. G. A. McTavish.

The auxiliary's income is drawn from three principal sources:

1—The annual tag day, a practice begun before the war and kept up ever since.

2—The annual membership collection, conducted each May or June by the auxiliary, over a two-weeks' period.

3—The annual linen shower at Thanksgiving.

In addition to these, occasional "special" events are organized to augment the funds. One of the first of these was a children's ball at Government House, lent for the occasion by Mrs. Dunsmuir, who was chaperone at the time. This undertaking netted $720 for the auxiliary's funds.

On another occasion, Sir Clive Phillips Woolley presented the selling rights of a volume of his poems to the auxiliary. In the first year they realized $122 from this source.

Following the example of the original ladies' committee, the auxiliary has also occasionally organized a ball. The last was held in 1921, notable not only for the handsome proceeds, viz., $2,000, but for the generous action of the sixty Victoria musicians who gave their services for the evening without charge.

The auxiliary wanted some tangible thing to represent their work, so they expended $1,500 in a tray serving, made of white enamel. This has now been replaced by a more attractive, but the unbreakable metal has saved a big bill in breakages.

In 1924 they handed the directors a cheque for $5,527, earmarked for the maternity floor, also to furnish six rooms at a cost of $500 each, nursery and sunroom in the south wing of the same floor, and linoleum for the ground floor, the latter costing about $1,000. Other items furnished in the same year included rugs, $70.75; table linen, $79; six Fowler beds, $60; Christmas cheer, $100; expenses in connection with the graduation class (to which the auxiliary now always presents individual bouquets, all prepared and tied with the class colors the same day by auxiliary members), $100; china for the hospital, $54; and wages for extra sewing woman, $35.

Among the bigger items expended by the auxiliary in 1925, when its total contributions amounted to over $3,345 during the year, were fly-screens for the whole of the fourth (maternity) floor, at a cost of $500; the fitting of radiators, chesters and chairs in the sunroom of the maternity floor, $520; remodeling the nurses' recreation room, $510; supplying waste-paper baskets and stand lamps for patients' rooms, $246; supplying twenty-four dozen tea towels and roller towels, $202; fitting spring doors on the maternity floor corridor, $156; and furnishing the Phoebe B. Rhodes room, $500.

In 1926 they supplied a curtain stretcher for the laundry at a cost of $200; the dress and apron pressed a great boon in saving the hospital curtains from tearing. The same year two sewing machines and motors were supplied at a cost of $127, and three new wheel chairs at a cost of $170. The usual $100 for Christmas cheer was expended this year and last year again, and another $100 is noted for the graduation expenses both in 1926 and 1927. The biggest item last year was $500 spent for table linen, and $330 for painting the auxiliary's rooms (sunroom and nursery on the fourth floor south).

THE INCUBATOR

Only a woman's auxiliary would have thought of an incubator. "I have been a constant user," declares Miss Mitchell, director of nursing, who recalls some of the diminutive undersized babies whose lives have been saved through this now-considered indispensable piece of equipment. The auxiliary is quick to discover anything that will bring the maternity ward up to date. Last year they purchased an electric breast pump at a cost of $227, baby scales costing $35, and an obstetrical table, $105.

Over and above these special details the auxiliary spends an average of $2,000 annually in its maintenance work.

A history of the auxiliary would not be complete without a reference to the Junior branch organized in 1924, with twelve young unmarried women. This number has since been added to, and the constitution altered to admit young married women. Miss Norma Macdonald, the first president, served two years. This branch sews for the infants, and knits for the "sick case" on the maternity floor, relieving the senior society of all the work of Christmas decorating, etc., except for the children's ward, which is the special care of the Daughters of Pity, and those wards mothered by the various interested societies.

LT.-COL. BARNES DIES AT CROFTON

Was Formerly Stationed at Work Point Barracks—Veteran of Two Campaigns

Soldier and sportsman, Lieutenant Colonel George Edward Barnes, R.M.A., C.B.E., died suddenly at his residence, Sherard Point, Crofton, yesterday morning.

Born at Edinburgh, Scotland, in 1863, Colonel Barnes had been in Canada for many years, coming to Esquimalt with a detachment of the Royal Marine Artillery in 1892, being attached at Work Point Barracks as a captain under Lieutenant-Colonel Rawson, R.M.A. There he remained until 1899, proceeding to South Africa for the war, where he continued until nearly the close of hostilities. He was present at the relief of Mafeking. In the Great War he served both in France and England.

Colonel Barnes later settled at Crofton, where he was a well-known figure. He married Miss Mary Florence Barkley, daughter of Captain Edward Barkley, a naval officer. There is one son, Lieutenant Barkley Barnes, R.M.A., who is now stationed at Portsmouth, England.

Colonel Barnes took a great interest in football and cricket, and was also keenly interested in shooting. The funeral will take place at Chemainus tomorrow at 1:30 o'clock at St. Michael's Church, Rev. B. Eytan Spurr officiating, and interment will be made at Chemainus Cemetery. For those leaving from the house the time has been set at 12:45 o'clock. Funeral arrangements are in the hands of Mr. R. H. Whidden, Duncan.

SECRETARY MRS. C. HAYWARD

The other members of this first ladies' committee were Mrs. A. J. Smith, Mrs. Annie Hynes and Mrs. Simon Leiser. Mrs. Leiser, whose brother, by a coincidence, was the first male patient in the Jubilee Hospital after it opened in 1890, is the only surviving member of that original committee.

FIRST WORK

The committee's first work was purely money-raising. The hospital was new. Everything in it was new. The replacing of linen, etc., had not yet become a constant care as it is today. The organizing of an annual ball was for some years the chief responsibility of the ladies, apart from their assistance in soliciting subscribers to the hospital funds. At their first ball they raised about $700, a considerable sum when the relatively small needs of the time are taken into consideration. Everything for this ball was donated, except the music, which cost $25. The committee handed the money over in a lump sum to the directors.

As the city grew the hospital needs grew, and the ladies' committee realized that more workers were needed. So a meeting was called and the Women's Auxiliary formed. In its by-laws, handed down from that day, it is set down that:

"The object of the society is to supply the necessary necessities for the comfort of the patients, especially of the maternity ward, and to assist the director of nurses and board of directors in any way whenever the occasion arises. The funds of the society shall be used for no other purpose, the granting of the requests to be determined by a majority of the votes of the members present at a regular or special meeting of the society."

And to secure the wherewithal for supplying these "necessary necessities" the auxiliary annually gives and all benevolently disposed women of the city who are anxious to support the city's charitable institutions the opportunity to become auxiliary members by payment of a $2 fee.

So much for the basis of organization. But the story of their work cannot be so briefly told. The infinite variety and multitude of hospital requirements which they have been called upon to meet can only be discovered by going minutely into the auxiliary records. Although they are a definitely secondary organization, literally tens of thousands of dollars are represented in the auxiliary contributions towards the hospital furnishings. Christmas cheer and money which they have saved the hospital through their sewing activities.

SPECIAL WORK

"Mothering" the maternity ward has been the auxiliary's special care for the last twenty-five years, and now that this has become the biggest individual section of the hospital, this one responsibility alone represents a tremendous output of energy and income.

The directing force of the former is the auxiliary's indefatigable and resourceful president, Mrs. Phoebe Rhodes. Mrs. Rhodes has been the head of the society for the past twenty-four years. Even in the arduous war days, when the Red Cross enlisted her sympathies and energies, she allowed no slackening of the hospital auxiliary functions, for although they ceased any active canvass for funds they averaged about $2,000 annually on current hospital needs, bedding, linen, etc. Mrs. Rhodes' name had become so much a synonym for hospital auxiliary that friends who met her canvassing for the Red Cross during the war, sometimes confused the issue, convinced that because she was campaigning it must be in the hospital interests.

AUXILIARY'S INCOME

The auxiliary's income is drawn from three principal sources:

1—The annual tag day, a practice begun before the war and kept up ever since.

2—The annual membership collection, conducted each May or June by the auxiliary, over a two-weeks' period.

3—The annual linen shower at Thanksgiving.

In addition to these, occasional "special" events are organized to augment the funds. One of the first of these was a children's ball at Government House, lent for the occasion by Mrs. Dunsmuir, who was chaperone at the time. This undertaking netted $720 for the auxiliary's funds.

On another occasion, Sir Clive Phillips Woolley presented the selling rights of a volume of his poems to the auxiliary. In the first year they realized $122 from this source.

Following the example of the original ladies' committee, the auxiliary has also occasionally organized a ball. The last was held in 1921, notable not only for the handsome proceeds, viz., $2,000, but for the generous action of the sixty Victoria musicians who gave their services for the evening without charge.

The auxiliary wanted some tangible thing to represent their work, so they expended $1,500 in a tray serving, made of white enamel. This has now been replaced by a more attractive, but the unbreakable metal has saved a big bill in breakages.

In 1924 they handed the directors a cheque for $5,527, earmarked for the maternity floor, also to furnish six rooms at a cost of $500 each, nursery and sunroom in the south wing of the same floor, and linoleum for the ground floor, the latter costing about $1,000. Rhodes room, $500.

In 1926 they supplied a curtain stretcher for the laundry at a cost of $200; the dress and apron pressed a great boon in saving the hospital curtains from tearing. The same year two sewing machines and motors were supplied at a cost of $127, and three new wheel chairs at a cost of $170. As the Autumn Fashion-Wheel Revolves

FROM the first days of Fall through the sunshine of Indian Summer to the severity of real Winter, when the fur coats become maddeningly handy, the changes in temperature demand a versatile wardrobe. Crepe, satin and velvet for dresses, tweed for the suit, and a lovely woolen for the coat, are fashion's answer to the varying types of apparel required.

Of especial interest right now is the three-piece suit. Tweed reaches the high point in this Autumn tailored mode. The coat usually is the three-quarter length, and scorns all semblance of fur trimming, but it does not disdain the separate fox scarf to complete milady's smart air. The ensemble in the illustration is made in tweed, either dark or light in tone, and also in tan, the skirt is widened with kick pleats, and the crepe de Chine blouse has a scarf neck. The blouse may match the tweed color, although white is much favored.

Combining many of the salient points of the new coats is this one of soft woolen. It maintains a slender line, but the sleeve departs from this severity by having a shirred section below the elbow to meet the band of fur French beaver is used for the pouch collar and cuffs in contrast to the coat color, which may be either vanilla, green or wine. Crepe back satin for the lining suggests the suitability of a satin frock.

Flares, if not present in two places in a dress, sleeve and skirt, are at least evident in the vicinity of the knees. By preserving a slim hipline, the flare in the skirt frock at the extreme right widens abruptly below the pointed girdle. This is just the type of dress every woman likes to possess, smart looking, easy to slip into, requiring no adjustment, and is easy to keep fresh and attractive. A pleated pointed collar of georgette contrasts with the blue, black, cocoanut or maroon glaze, the color range of this model.

Crepe of good weight in a soft color is an excellent fabric for the lines of the dress at the left, graceful circular flares posed from the snug girdle, the outline softened by two self bows and a shoulder-wide collar of transparent velvet attached to the V neckline.

There are so many ways with transparent velvet. The smaller the design the lovelier the colors diffused from its lustrous pile. The pattern of this print contributes to the allure of the afternoon model with long, loose blouse, banded hip and double-tiered flounces cut in the circular manner.

Weddings

HORTON-HIGGINBOTTOM
PORT ALBERNI, Nov. 3.—A very pretty wedding took place at the First United Church, Alberni, when Miss Doris Higginbottom, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Higginbottom, was united in marriage to Mr. Alexander Horton, son of Mrs. C. E. Horton, Fourth Avenue, on Wednesday evening. The ceremony was performed by Rev. A. McLean. The bride looked very pretty in a gown of pink georgette, carrying a bouquet of pink roses and white carnations. After the ceremony a reception was held at the G.W.V.A. Hall here, where the young couple received the good wishes of their many friends. Mr. and Mrs. Horton then left on a honeymoon to Victoria and waypoints by motor. They will make their home in Port Alberni.

The increasing use of pistol-silencers by American gunmen is, of course, the outcome of complaints that the noise of murders was becoming a nuisance.

LONDON MARRIAGE CAUSES SENSATION

TORONTO, Nov. 3.—A special cable from London to The Mail and Empire today says:

The sensation of the week has been the revelation of the marriage on August 4 of Lieut.-Colonel Sir Ronald Waterhouse, former principal secretary successively to Premier Bonar Law, Ramsay MacDonald and Stanley Baldwin, to Miss Nourah Chard, who is secretary to Mrs. Stanley Baldwin and who formerly occupied a similar position to the Duchess of York.

"Adding an unusual interest to this romance of Number 10 Downing Street is the fact that the wedding took place quietly here at the Chapel Royal, St. James, two months ago, before Waterhouse was publicly relieved of the charge made against him by Sir Max Bonn, who named Sir Ronald as one of the two co-respondents in the divorce suit which the wealthy banker, formerly of New York, filed in answer to Lady Bonn's suit for divorce.

"When Sir Max won his case last week, it was learned that he had dropped the charge against Waterhouse who, however, took the witness stand to express regret for letters written to Lady Bonn and attention paid to her in the past.

"The bride and groom, naturally, are old friends, since Lady Waterhouse became secretary to Mrs. Baldwin at the beginning of the Premier's first tenure of office, before Ramsay MacDonald formed the Labor Government in 1924.

"In spite of her marriage, Lady Waterhouse will not only remain at her duties in Downing Street, but also will continue to be called 'Miss Chard'."

Enjoyable Programme Given By Chapter

The programme given yesterday afternoon by Commodore Broughton Chapter, I.O.E., at the Empress Hotel before an audience of nearly two hundred proved an outstanding triumph for the talented performers. The tea musicale, the first of its kind to be given by the chapter, marks the opening of its activities for the season, and the regent, Mrs. D. B. McConnan, announced that a number of similar affairs would probably be given this winter. Bowls of pink and white chrysanthemums and potted primulas were used in decoration of the tea tables and the platform was arranged with tall, slender baskets of multi-colored dahlias and golden brown bracken, the combination being particularly attractive.

The first number of the programme was a violin quartette played by Mrs. Aldous, Miss Irene Bick, Miss Adele Bucklin and Miss Neva Stewart. Miss Eileen Dumbleton was at the piano, the two numbers being "Famous Waltzes" by Brahms, and "Serenade Neapolitana" D'Alesto. In the absence of Miss Dorothy Macdon, Miss Gwendoline Harper played two piano solos, "Harmonious Blacksmith," Handel, and "Song With Words," Schubert. Miss Gwendoline Harper's place was filled by Mrs. Otto Weiler, who sang "My Dear Soul" and "The Wind," accompanied by Miss Eileen Dumbleton. The trio, the Misses Adele and Mary Bucklin and Miss Gwendoline Harper, was a charming number. "Romance," Rubinstein and "Celeste Menuet," Valensin, being played with much feeling and artistry. In her "cello solo," "Serenade," Toselli, and "Andante," from "Orpheus," Gluck, Miss Mary Bucklin received great applause. Miss Gwendoline Harper was the accompanist. Miss Bucklin's playing was marked by clear-cut phrasing, rich tone and cool and restrained style.

Two solos, "The Jasmine Door," Scott, and "Will o' the Wisp," Sprague, were charmingly sung by Mrs. Edward McQuade, accompanied by Miss Eileen Dumbleton. A well-known and favorite local pianist, Miss Gwendoline Harper, played two numbers, "Nocturne in F Minor," Chopin, and "Sonata in A," Scarlatti, with facile technique and artistic interpretation.

The concluding numbers of the programme were a violin quartette, "To a Wild Rose," Macdowell; "Dance des Fous," D'Alesto, and "Sleete," Laurens, played by Miss Irene Bick, Miss Adele Bucklin, Miss Aldous and Miss Neva Stewart, with Miss Dumbleton at the piano. After the National Anthem had been played, tea was served.

Deep Cove Personals

Mr. and Mrs. McQueen motored last week-end to Comox and Courtenay. While in Courtenay they were guests at the Riverside Inn.

Mrs. Newman Munford and Mr. Pat Munford left this week for Vancouver to take up their residence at Point Grey.

Mr. Tinker of the British Columbia Electric Company, is building a summer home on Madrona Drive, which is near completion.

Mr. Newman Munford, who has been touring the Central United States, has left on a visit to Europe.

Mr. and Mrs. Patterson, of the Birch Road, will leave shortly to take up their residence at Portland Island.

Ladysmith Socials
A most enjoyable evening was spent in the Roberts Street Hall on Thursday evening, the occasion being a social given by Miss Ethel Dumbleton to the members of her Sunday school class.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Davidson, of Victoria, are visiting friends in Ladysmith, the guests of Mr. and Mrs. D. Johnston.

Miss Nora O'Connell, of Victoria, spent a few days in the city during the week.

At a recent social evening held under the auspices of the Ladysmith Lodge of the Order of Moose, in the A.O.F. Hall, many visitors were in attendance, amongst them being Secretary Hills of the Vancouver Lodge, also Mr. Duncan McKinnon, of Vancouver, and Mr. McMillan, dictator of the same lodge. Mr. G. M. Moore, of the lodge, was also present, and Messrs. Telford, Fulton and Milligan from Nanaimo. A most enjoyable programme was well carried out. Card games were a feature of keen competition, the winners of the various prizes being Miss M. Nicholson, Mesdames Clarke, Branch and Patterson and Mr. Marshall and Mr. W. Clarke.

CONCERT TO RAISE FUNDS FOR CHEER

On Thursday, at the First United Church Hall, the Onwego Young Men's Bible Class will hold its annual entertainment with the object of providing funds for supplying the needy of their parish with Christmas hampers and comforts. Rev. W. G. Wilson, D.D., will deliver a few introductory remarks. An excellent programme has been arranged, which includes the following items:

Mendelssohn's "Rondo Capriccioso," by Miss Dorothy Morton; at piano, Mr. Llewellyn Jones will sing "Vesti la Giubba" (Pagliacci) and "La Donna e Mobile" (Rigoletto); Miss Ethel Begwood Bale will recite "The Two Slaves" by Lugrin and Mr. Francis Gratian will give a selection on the violin; two contralto songs, entitled "Yonder," and "The Brownies," will be sung by Mrs. Allan Millhouse, and Miss Edith

Howell will sing "La Parfalle" and "The Little Duetman." Mr. Frank Smedley will give two bass solos, entitled "Youth," and "Come to the Fair."

In the second half of the programme Miss Bale will again oblige with "The Green Eye of the Little Yellow God," and "The Second Minuet." Mr. Jones will give two more solos entitled "Love, Could I Only Tell Thee," and "Mary of Agyle," and Miss Morton will play "Arietta" and "Chant d'Amour."

"Bols Epais," and Huntington Woodman's "A Birthday," will form Mrs. Allan Millhouse's second contribution to the evening's entertainment, and Mr. Francis Gratian will again perform on his violin. "Lithuanian Song" and "Ecstasy" will be sung by Miss Howell, and Mr. Smedley will wind up the evening with "The Little Player" and "The Pirate Chief."

French and Spanish motion picture theatre owners have combined.

Native Daughter Married

MRS. Norman Edward Oberg, known in musical circles as Brownie Peebles. The announcement of her marriage to Mr. Norman Edward Oberg has proved one of the most interesting of the Autumn weddings. A native daughter of British Columbia, Brownie Peebles was born in New Westminster, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Peebles, Ash Street. Five years ago she left to study music in New York, and gained such recognition with her beautiful voice that shortly after that she became a member of the American Opera Company, with which company she started in Victoria and Vancouver when Rosing brought the company to the Coast. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Oberg, of Titusville, Penn., and is also a member of the American Opera Company. The marriage was celebrated on October 26 at Chicago, Ill., and the bride was given away by Vladimir Rosing, director of the company. Miss Doreen Davidson, of Vancouver, another member of the company, was bridesmaid.

Sir Charles and Lady Piers, Mr. and Mrs. P. W. Peters, Mr. and Mrs. Blake Wilson, Miss Dorothea Bewley and Mr. Robin Piers.

Say Farewell to Visiting Missionary
The presbytery of the United Church held a pleasant function in First United Church, Friday afternoon, the occasion being a farewell tea to Dr. and Mrs. Simon Fraser, who are returning to Trinidad to resume their missionary work there. Many were present from the various city churches, guests being welcomed at the door by the president, Mrs. James Hood, Vice-President Mrs. W. G. Wilson and Treasurer Mrs. C. E. Souley. Rev. J. P. Westman occupied the chair. The programme consisted of solos by Mrs. J. Prisk and Mrs. A. Mulhouse, and prose selections by Miss Siegel, of Calgary. Tea was served by the executive, under the leadership of Mrs. H. M. Wright. Mrs. J. P. Westman and Mrs. G. D. Christie poured tea, a table decorated with pink chrysanthemums and pink and green candles.

After refreshments were served Dr. W. G. Wilson spoke briefly of Dr. and Mrs. Fraser's sojourn, expressing regret at their impending departure, but extending good wishes to them in their coming work. Dr. Fraser expressed his gratitude in a brief speech, saying that he hoped some day he and his wife would be able to return here.

P.E.O. Sisterhood Are Guests at Banquet

On Friday evening the members of "E" Chapter, P.E.O. Sisterhood, were entertained by their husbands at a banquet held at Kelway's Cafe. The table was beautifully arranged and decorated in yellow and white, the colors of the sisterhood, while each member received a lovely corsage bouquet. After a sumptuous repast the gathering adjourned to the home of the president, Mrs. Lock, 1603 Hollywood Crescent, where a delightful evening was spent. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Lock, Mr. and Mrs. G. D. Christie, Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Hemboff, Mr. and Mrs. A. H. MacLachlan, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Kirk, Captain and Mrs. A. Sullivan, Mr. and Mrs. W. K. McCarter, Mr. and Mrs. E. W. White, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Watson, Mrs. Florence Dumbleton, Major and Mrs. S. H. Okell and Mr. R. T. MacKay.

"BARBERRY BUSH"

One Girl's Marriage Problems
By KATHLEEN NORRIS

"Kruschen makes you feel young—keep young—and look young."

"I am writing to tell you how wonderful Kruschen Salts are. I had awful headaches and used to get out of sorts, I tried all manner of different salts, tablets, etc., but none did me any good. A friend of mine told me she could not bear Kruschen Salts, so I have been taking them regularly for months, and find they have relieved my ills."

"I would not be without a bottle of Kruschen Salts, as they make you feel young, keep young, and look young."

Mrs. Vivian Mitchell.
Ottawa, Ontario.

Kruschen Salts

Good Health for Half-Cent a Day.
At Drug and Grocery Stores.

Manufactured by E. Kruschen, Ltd.,
New York, N.Y.

Importers: McMillan Bros., Ltd., Toronto.

"Barberry Bush, there's nobody like you in the world! You're wonderful! I was so proud of you today, and the lunch, and the place, I'll bet it knocked their eyes out. You looked prettier—sitting there with your red hair and your blue apron."

There was a long interval of this. Then Barbara could resume:

"Don't you think it was a rather rotten thing for any woman to do, come into a community and call herself 'Miss' when she really was married?"

"Rotten. But then she is rotten," Barry said frankly.

"Oh, do you think so?" Barbara was pleasantly surprised.

"Certainly she is. It would take an innocent boob like Link MacKenzie not to see it!" Barry said scornfully.

"She'll lead him a dance before she's through with him, believe me."

"Happy? don't you think they'll be happy?"

"Happy? With that near-Cleopatra reddening her lips while they are being married, and vamping the clergyman at the same time—"

Barbara's delicious wild laugh rang out, and she leaned in, in a very pale of mirth, upon the broom with which she was brushing the wide flags of the patio.

Style Experts' Fall Models for Women

Paris Inspired by the Cap

PERT capped heads emerge above richly furled collars these days. This vast difference and extreme silhouette of the millinery realm may seem strange at first glance. But in point of attraction and also of comfort it is exceedingly wearable by the fresh young face. When the rather sketchy chapeau of this type is of velvet, sleek veils or soiled it is a fetching complement to the collar of fur. Exactly like a bonnet, is the model from Agnes, the wee shape of black velvet embellished with a flaring scale of black felt. Susan Talbot's skullcap showing a veil is another of these tiny away-from-the-forehead hats. Drooping back lines entirely covering hairline and neck are illustrated by the two fanciful models sketched from Talbot. One is shown in profile, the brim turned sharply off the face and gathered into a circular flare in back. To a snug fitting cap of felt this same designer adds a pleating of panne velvet ending in a fanfall. The youthful bevel is still favored. Alphonse uses a full crown of black taupe with a bandeau and bow of plaid velvet, and the result is a hat with a Highlander sauciness.

Flares Along Novel Lines

THE flare persistently interposes itself in the coat silhouette. Novel circular sections of self fabric with an emphasis on fur are shown in various versions, illustrated by the accompanying models from Chanel, Paquin and Patou. Sleek, smooth shoulders are used to stress the flaring hemline, whether it be slight or extreme, which lends grace to the prevailing length of just below the knee. Marks trim all edges of the coat of black cloth sketched from the Winter collection of Paquin, forming a deep shawl collar which narrows at the defined waistline and widens as it approaches and encircles the circular flounce applied to the lower portion of the coat. The sleeve is darted to meet a cuff placed midway between wrist and elbow. Intricate cutting marks the coat from Patou, its swinging fur-bordered flounce depending from the neckline. This cut through the waist and also on the sleeve is exceedingly attractive. Beige velveteen is the material, richly trimmed with beige fox. Employing the smart theme of red woolen mixture enhanced by black shawl fur, Chanel has fashioned a coat of very novel design. Vertical stitched sections add to the length of the silhouette, curving into a slight flare at the hem where a girdle of the fur echoes the cravat falling from the closely adjusted collar.

Self Flowers on Velvet Gowns

THE smartest note in velvet for evening is the flower trimming of self material. Velvet in its superb richness of lights and shadows, is very beautiful when made up into a flower. Thus the color of a velvet frock is accentuated and deepened by just this small addition in the way of decoration. One evening gown of blue velvet in a shade somewhat lighter than navy has three self flowers on the strap decolletage, at the waistline, and again directly above the flaring section of the skirt. Violet tones are rarely seen in comparison with the popularity of other colors this season. But when purple does appear it distinguishes itself. A velvet gown in a deep violet affects a large cluster of velvet violets placed at the left side just below the shoulder strap. Separate clusters of velvet flowers are worn with ensembles and are of unusual types. A cluster of clove blossoms held together by a narrow strip of velvet ribbon is shown in several of the Fall colors, especially in brown and red.

Tie Silks in the New Vogue

ALWAYS has it been a source of wonder to the fair sex why the fascinating silk designs of masculine cravats were restricted to men's realm. Perhaps our last glimpse from the apparel of the three-piece suited male is the silk for frocks. These small geometric

Afternoon Frocks Attain Singular Smartness

VELVET used alone or with satin, flat crepe or fur plays the success of the smartest afternoon dresses. Its variety of interpretation is expressed in four of the models illustrated. What could be more suitable for the young matron than a costume of printed velvet and a turban trimmed with an ostrich spray? This is just the type of frock for an afternoon of bridge, a matinee or an informal dinner in town, charming when worn with or without a fur scarf or in cooler weather a handsome coat. Its small pattern in floral design is well chosen for the simple, softly draped lines evolved by Berthe, who insinuates fullness into the skirt portion by means of four gathered godets. The narrow, deep pointed neckline offsets a skilfully selected necklace. All velvet in ombre tones of taupe is Redfern's contribution for afternoon wear, the colors deepening from neck to hem. Restrained shirring at the shoulder lends softness to the blouse and a swathed giraffe suggests the Oriental. Two scantily circular tiers comprising the skirt have additional fullness through a lengthened side drape. Flat crepe combined with velvet is an alliance especially suitable to the full figure. A clever manipulation of these two contrasting materials is shown from Miller Soeurs, the skirt of velvet with concentrated fullness at the side front and appliques of velvet forming diagonal lines on blouse and sleeve. Black satin, circularized by means of godets in back and front is used for the jumper frock from Goupy. Irregularly sized coin dots of black velvet are stunningly applied to the blouse of state blue. A striking example of the coat dress is this from Redfern. Black crepe is constructed into a simple straightline model with waistline belt of some width and a flare displayed in an exaggerated side portion of the fabric faced with ermine from neck to hemline. A rather high collar and narrow cuffs of the fur and a white buckle contrive to make this type of frock very singular. And of course this smart young miss carries a large white ermine bag with a black frame.

Seen in the Big City Shops

CHANEL'S TULLE FAN
By reason of being seen in few numbers, fans must be ultra lovely. Chanel's newest fan of multicolored tulle layers is very beautiful and something for which the feminine heart will pine.

FOLKA DOT HOSE
Jane Regny's heraldic stocking of fine silk is displayed in original imports and also as copies, the prices naturally widely varied. A domestic woven pink dot hose that will soon be offered in the shops.

ANOTHER BEIGE SHADE
Warmer in tone and more flattering than the beiges we have had thus far is a new hue termed, sulphur. This is on the yellow beige cast which you may find very becoming.

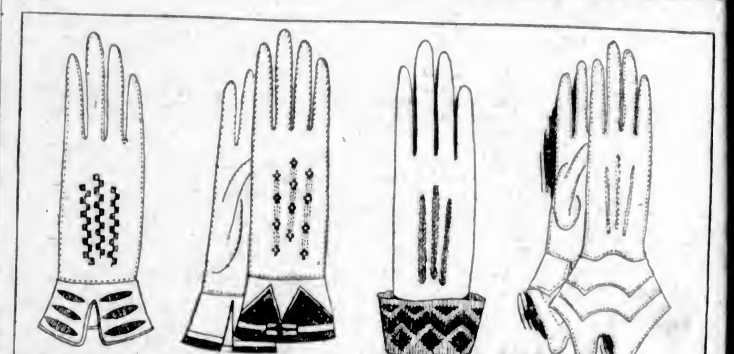

GOLD LINK JEWELRY
Designed for sports wear are choker and bracelet of large gold links after the manner of Lucien Lelong. They are in good taste but bold enough to be extremely effective.

NEW BLOOMER FEATURE
A bloomer of rayon is fashioned with tailored bands at the waist and knees, but instead of fastening with buttons the bands are lined with rubberized fabric, which is elastic enough to assure a smooth and snug fit.

PRACTICAL COSTUME SLIPS
One of the shops is making a specialty of costume slips, well tailored and of good quality silk at a low price. These are to be had in all the Fall colors for wear beneath the silk or wool frock.

patterns in brilliant colorings on rather dark backgrounds are used with surprising success in the development of charming feminine dresses. Not only has the tie silk taken the Autumn daytime mode by the forelock, but it is a type of design that will be carried into Spring patterns and weaves. The dress of the silk is quite the newest expression of the new in fashions and the most strikingly modern in day wear. It is worn not only as a separate dress, but with a jacket or hem length coat of plain material which echoes the ground color of the print. Decidedly late in its conception is the bolero type of coat sketched. From beneath its trim tailored lines sparkles the colorful pattern of the dress. A Frenchwoman with a rather limited knowledge of the English language entered a chemist's shop and asked for face powder. "Will you have it scented?" inquired the assistant. "No," was the reply. "I will take it viz me."

New Gloves Show Artful Touches of Color

BE it ever so humble the glove gives the last completing note to a costume of formal or informal character. Gloves for Fall wear assume startling tonal combinations to blend in perfect harmony with the established costume colors. Gloves from French designers show extended cuffs, elaborated with color patterns, the turn-back cuff and the gauntlet. Diverse methods of ornament and stitching transform the glove from a mere five-fingered item of dress. Blushing is the sole means of decoration on the gauntlet glove sketched, stiffened tiers hand-stitched in black repeating the lines of seaming. Washable white glove is thus employed for a neat and fastidiously modish glove. White with color is very charming. A navy blue and white suede cuff of angular lines is stitched to a glove of white suede overcast at the seams in blue and with a blue and white embroidered back. White suede forms the glove shown with stripes of metalized leather interlaced through the back and inset into the slashed cuff. Particularly colorful is the fourth glove illustrated—its turn-back cuff of green faille painted in red with gold beads outlining the motifs.

Spectator Wear Is More Formal Tweed in Sports Accessories

WITH materials of luxurious mien making headway in the sports mode which formerly were restricted to formal raiment, spectator wear has forsaken its erstwhile casual air and is of such dignity and subtlety as to attain a position of supreme importance in daytime clothes. Black or black with white is fashionably popular, especially when the fabric of a costume is of jersey. Chanel makes use of this for a frock with a distinctly new flavor by adding to a plain little model with diagonal closing from neck to hem, a collar and flower of pink pique, symmetric collar lines supplying novelty. The zigzag motif in tailored detail furnishes interesting lined. This has been adopted by Patou for a tweed dress in a very small print. These zigzag bands are accented by fine piping. Belts are used on the majority of frocks either in self fabric or a contrasting material.

THE inevitable necklace and bracelet may have sung its swan song as far as your taste is concerned and you seek another way to supply the chic touch of costume jewelry. Have you thought of choker and belt to match?

For an ensemble of coat and jumper dress of sports genre a unique note seen at Biarritz was a duo of belt and necklace made of rectangular gold links with a large round emerald for a clasp. The embroidery of the white blouse defined yoke and border in a step design of gold thread.

Today's Paris Style News

By ALICE MAXWELL APPLO.

Cherry-red finger nails were noted at a Blue Room tea. It is surprising to see so much grey worn in formal day costumes and in tweed. Chanel's severely tailored dress and coat ensemble in horizontally striped tweed of grey and white is interesting. Small hats in turban style are observed with three velvet leaves in two tones. In grey this is particularly effective. The sleeveless frock is now a marked feature of morning and afternoon dresses at Biarritz. This presages the same type for Palm Beach and other resort wear.

MANY coats on smart Parisians have cape or blouse backs. The bolster fur collar is much used. Astrakhan assumes prominence about town where the fashionable foregather. Brown astrakhan with lighter brown or beige cloth is especially chic. Black astrakhan trim black velvet coats. Or black and grey astrakhan in combination is used on a black cloth garment. Black antelope handbags with gold chain handles are seen. Single tricolor gardenias are worn on navy blue suits.

Hallow'en Balls Are Very Successful

DUNOAN, Nov. 3.—Wonderful decorations and scenic effects, a good floor, the best of music, furnished by the Dunstan Seven Orchestra, a supper which has never been surpassed in Dunstan, supplied by the ladies of the Dunstan Women's Conservative Club under the able direction of Mrs. George Kennell, and a good crowd, united in making the third annual Hallow'en Ball given by the Cowichan Conservative Association, the usual great success.

The dance hall was decorated in yellow and black, with witches, goblins, bats, cats and pumpkins galore. The stage was a work of art, with a realistic witch presiding over a cauldron from which at midnight the six winning tickets in the tombola competition were drawn. Black cats stalked through forests of greenery, while two huge feathered owls stared out from amongst the trees. Early in the evening two great cats came out from the shadows of the stage to distribute to the dancers appropriately decorated paper caps of every form, which did much to add to the merriment of the dance. The music stand was also specially decorated by a committee this year, which won great praise as a result of their efforts. The supper room was artistically decorated in Hallow'en effects with quantities of brass candlesticks to give a most pleasing appearance.

The hall decorations were the work of Mrs. C. F. Davis, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Allen, Mrs. E. H. Black, Mrs. J. H. Whitmore, Mrs. R. W. Whitmore, Mrs. W. R. Russell, Miss Nairn Neil and Messrs. O. T. Smythe, W. R. Smythe, G. L. Lounsbury, J. Marsh, M. McMillan and J. Clark. Mrs. H. W. Brien designed the decorations for the supper room and was assisted by Mrs. D. H. B. Holmes, Mrs. J. A. Kyle, Mrs. P. C. Roberts, Mrs. F. B. Carberry, Mrs. W. Purver and Major Russell.

Mrs. Kennell was assisted in supper arrangements by Mrs. A. Day, Mrs. O. T. Smythe, Mrs. A. B. Anderson, Mrs. Waller, Mrs. R. J. Anderson, Mrs. C. Dobson, Mrs. H. Owens, Mrs. E. F. Miller, Mrs. W. R. Smythe and others.

Mr. C. W. O'Neill made a most efficient master of ceremonies, while Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Black, Anna Kler and Mr. E. L. Plaskett played the supper extras in a very capable manner.

PORT ALBERT, Nov. 3.—One of the most successful social functions ever held by the Albert Pire Department took place last night in the Memorial Hall here, the occasion being the firemen's annual Hallow'en masquerade ball.

The hall was artistically decorated in Hallow'en colors, with orange and black streamers trailing from the many lights, while witches and black cats peeped here and there. Jack-o'-lanterns and pumpkins were used, and every other imaginable Hallow'en decoration, which brought about a striking effect so greatly admired by the large attendance, which numbered over 700.

Two first class orchestras, Gardiner's, from Vancouver, and Moore's, which is a local one, provided the latest in popular dance music. So many and varied were the costumes that the judges had a difficult time arriving at a fair decision. Miss L. Young captured the first prize for the best dressed lady, representing "Winter," and Mr. G. Broughton was best dressed man. The prize for the best dressed couple went to Miss K. Forrest and Miss Nellie Heath, who represented an old-fashioned couple. Mr. Eddie Allan captured the best comic gentleman's prize dressed as a "Bobo," while the best comic lady's prize went to Miss Peggy Frost. The best comic couple represented "Hayseeds." Messrs. Victor Hamilton and William Richardson, while Mrs. Bella captured the best "home-made" prize in a "Dutch Cleanser" costume.

After the giving out of the prizes a buffet supper was served and dancing was enjoyed until an early hour this morning.

CIVIL SERVANTS TO MEET

On Monday next commencing at 8 p.m. the regular monthly meeting of the Victoria Local Council of the Amalgamated Civil Servants of Canada will take place in the Provincial Civil Servants' Club rooms, Menzies Street. Delegates are requested to attend and members from outside points are cordially invited to be present, when several important matters will be up for discussion.

"Here is a shilling for you, and it may interest you to know that Mrs. Jones across the way wants some wood chopped," said the kind-hearted lady to the tramp.

"Thank you for the warning, madam!" said the knight, departing.

Women's Institutes of Vancouver Island

SOUTH SAANICH

The Temperance Hall was the scene of a very jolly gathering on Wednesday evening, when the South Saanich Women's Institute entertained the South Saanich Farmers' Institute with a very jolly Hallow'en party. There was a large number present and the evening opened with a concert programme. The stage was artistically decorated with greenery and Hallow'en symbols arranged on a white background. Mrs. J. L. Mother acted as chairman. The programme commenced with a chorus entitled, "An Apology," sung by Messdames Warner, Oley, Sutherland, Styan, Wood, Glidden and Misses B. Sherring and M. McKenzie. Following this Miss Sherring sang "Dancing Tambourines," and "In My Garden" very sweetly, and Miss Doris Mitchell gave a comic recitation. The next number was a very spooky one as befitted Hallow'en with the chorus draped in long white robes with lighted pumpkins as masks. The performers executed a drill and sang "Hallow'en Spooks."

A comic sketch entitled "The Crystal Gazer," was capably rendered by Mrs. G. E. Warner as the "medium" and Mrs. A. Sutherland as the client. The amusing mistakes made by the "medium" in her delirious into the future caused much merriment.

Mrs. C. L. Styan gave a spirited rendition of "Wot Cher," with all joining heartily in the chorus. Mrs. J. N. Wood sang two solos in a very pleasing manner, entitled "Give Me a House on the Hill Top" and "Rose in the Bud." The latter made its reappearance, singing "Paladadiado," into which they introduced comic verses about local residents, which made a great hit. The closing number was one by the chorus, entitled "Finale." Mrs. J. J. Young acted as accompanist.

Following the programme, the floor was cleared and several amusing games on contests played. The winner in Dead Man's Bones being Miss J. Sherring, and in the candle lighting, Miss B. Dunneil. During the evening a delicious supper was served in the dining-room, the tables being tastefully decorated with bouquets of chrysanthemums and lighted pumpkin lanterns. After justice had been done to the many tasty things provided by the ladies, Mr. W. D. Mitchell, on behalf of the Farmers' Institute, thanked the ladies for the pleasant evening provided. Mrs. H. Lawrie responded suitably on behalf of the ladies. Following this, dancing was enjoyed, the music being kindly provided by Mr. L. Collins with his Orthophonic.

GARDEN CITY

The monthly meeting of the Garden City Women's Institute was held on Thursday afternoon in the Marigold Hall. There was a good attendance and the president, Mrs. Stacey, was in the chair. The treasurer reported that the finances are in good condition and it is hoped soon to install a sink and water in the kitchen of the hall. A special business meeting is being called for Wednesday next at 3 o'clock, to finish up the business of the year, as the annual meeting takes place on the first Thursday in December. In the latter part of the afternoon Mrs. De Rouie gave a very interesting and enjoyable demonstration in bead work.

ROYAL OAK

The monthly meeting of the Royal Oak Women's Institute will be held on Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Nicholson, East Road. Several matters of importance will be before the meeting, and a full attendance is hoped for. The semi-monthly card party will be held on Thursday evening at 8 o'clock, at Mrs. Nicholson's. Visitors will be cordially welcomed. Another recital will be held on Wednesday afternoon, November 14, at Mr. Arthur J. Wedd's home, Elk Lake. An interesting programme has been prepared in which several well known artists will take part.

Sooke and North Sooke

On Friday afternoon the Sooke and North Sooke Women's Institute held a silver tea and plant sale in the Sooke Hall. During the afternoon Mrs. P. Campbell, of Victoria, gave a most interesting talk on Institute work throughout the province, which was much appreciated by the members. Mrs. J. Jackson, president of the Institute, thanked Mrs. Campbell for her kindness in coming out to Sooke to address the members. The plant sale proved most successful, quite a sum of money being realized.

BOWLING CLUB PRESENTS PRIZES

Distribution and Social Held by Victoria Lawn Bowling Club to Mark Year's Activities

On Friday evening the Victoria Lawn Bowling Club held its annual prize giving and social in the Orange Hall. President R. A. C. Dewar, in his opening remarks, said he was pleased to see so many of the bowlers with their wives and sweethearts present, and he complimented the ladies of the club for the capable manner in which they had looked after the social affairs during the past season. He then proceeded to give a resume of the club's successes during the season, the twelve or fourteen prizes won at the Vancouver tournament; the Nichol League Cup, won for four years in succession, and the Dominion doubles, won by two of the members at Vancouver.

The president also complimented chairman of different committees for the efficient manner in which they and their subordinates had carried on the work of the season. Two outstanding events in the bowling world of Victoria were the tournament in August, which, with the co-operation of the Burnside and C.P.R., and numerous entries from Vancouver, proved to be a great success and gave rise to even greater anticipations next year. The other important event was the visit of the New Zealand bowlers, who were just a little too strong for Victoria; several members from the Burnside and C.P.R. clubs participated in this game.

During the evening Mrs. Morton and Mr. Edmund rendered several vocal selections, which were much appreciated by those present.

After the distribution of the prizes, a game of five hundred was played, the winners being: First, ladies, Mrs. Munro; second, Mrs. Hopkins; consolation, Mrs. Huxtable; first gentlemen, Mr. Corcoran; second, Mr. Dewar; consolation, Mr. Renfrew.

Junior Pipe Band Commences Practices; Drummers Wanted

The Canadian Scottish Junior Pipe Band has started on its weekly winter practices for get ready for next season. Practice takes place in the Armories, Bay Street, at 7:30 p.m. every Tuesday. There is a promising supply of youngsters for tuition on the pipes, but there are vacancies for drummers. Any lad wishing to learn to be a drummer has an excellent opportunity to acquire instruction and to become a member of the band.

Members of the band annually enjoy several delightful outings. At the beginning of the last season the band went to Ladysmith and to Nanaimo, where it was entertained by the civic authorities of the latter city. It visited Bellingham to represent the city of Victoria at the annual tulip festival and later in the same capacity, on July 4, to Seattle. It made a week's tour under the auspices of the Kiwanis Club to Aberdeen, Olympia, Tacoma and Seattle, and wound up the season by visiting Port Angeles.

boys wishing to join in the capacity of drummers should present themselves on Tuesday night at the Armories. Uniform and equipment are supplied free of charge and all expenses on various trips are paid.

GET RID OF YOUR FAT

Thousands of others have gotten rid of theirs by my simple and efficient method of fat reduction without starvation diet or burdensome exercise, often at a very rapid rate and WITHOUT PAYMENT until reduction has taken place.

I am a licensed practicing physician and have made a careful study of the physiological requirements of the human body. This has enabled me to select such ingredients and in such proportion as in my opinion will produce not only a loss of weight without harm and an improvement in health, but with it an alleviation of all of the troublesome symptoms which frequently accompany and often are a direct result of overweightness, such as shortness of breath on slight exertion, palpitation of the heart, etc., not to speak of the relief from the embarrassment of being too stout. Stout persons suffering from such diseases as Chronic Rheumatism, Gout, Eczema, Asthma and high blood pressure are greatly relieved by a reduction of their superfluous fat.

My treatment will relieve that depressed, tired, sleepy feeling, giving you the renewed energy and vigor which come as a result of the loss of superfluous fat. If you are overweight, do not postpone but sit down right now and send for my FREE TRIAL TREATMENT and my plan whereby I am to be PAID ONLY AFTER REDUCTION HAS TAKEN PLACE if you so desire.

THISTLES HAND CITY XI FIRST DEFEAT OF SEASON

Saanich Lads Win 2-0 In Poor Game; Wests And Dockers Victors

Greenshirts Go to Top Berth When City Suffers Defeat—Esquimalt Blanks C's 5-0, While Wests Hand Westholme Same Dose

Jack Ewing's Saanich Thistles unceremoniously defeated the season's surprise packet yesterday afternoon at Beacon Hill when they humbled Victoria City, heretofore undefeated leaders of the First Division Football League, by a 2-0 score in a ragged exhibition. One goal in each half, the first on a penalty kick taken by Harper, and the second from Essler's head, split disaster for the City, and for the first time this season displaced them from the premier berth.

GREENSHIRTS ON TOP

Today Dr. Poyntz and his band of Greenshirts are occupying the proud position that previous to yesterday's game was held by Victoria City. The Wests had little difficulty in handing the Westholme eleven a 5-0 defeat at Work Point Barracks. Esquimalt handed the Five C's a 5-0 setback and climbed to within one point of the City. Saanich Thistles, by their spectacular victory over Victoria City, are now within one point of the Dockers. Five C's and the hotel men are bringing up the rear with the former club having one win to their credit and the latter none. With six games wiped off the sheet, it looks safe to assume that the race for the league championship is a four-team affair, with the latter two clubs sadly out of the running.

CITY GO UNDER

Victoria City found out just how it feels to be defeated, when they were under for the first time this season at the hands of the Saanich Thistles by a 2-0 setback at Beacon Hill. Sensational goalkeeping by Jack Rogers, heavy kicking by Harper and Joe Crowe, Thistles' fullbacks, and a badly off-form showing of the City, accounted for their failure to penetrate their opponents' goal. BLACKBURN ROVERS LOSE SOCCER LEAD

Go Under Two to One Before Sheffield United and Derby County Goes to Top in English First

RANGERS PRESERVE UNBEATEN RECORD

LONDON, Nov. 3.—Blackburn Rovers lost their lead in the English first soccer division yesterday when they were beaten by Sheffield United and lost 2-1 to Derby County, who went to Aston and beat the Villa team, comes to the top. The Rovers' showing was a great surprise as Sheffield United have proved themselves a poor team this season. Burnley staged the unexpected when they defeated Everton 2-0. Newcastle United trounced Huddersfield.

In the second division Nottingham Forest and Hull City triumphed over West Bromwich Albion.

In the Scottish first division the Rangers preserved their unbeaten record and first place by beating Hibernians. Motherwell lost to Kilmarnock and Hearts will take the second place in the standings, as they beat St. Johnstone.

VANCOUVER REPS DEFEAT VARSITY

McKeen Cup Game Ends in 22-17 Score—Sides Put Up Great Show on English Game

VANCOUVER, Nov. 3.—Vancouver drew first blood in the McKeen Cup English Rugby series at Brockton Point this afternoon when they came from behind a one-point deficit at the start of the second half to beat Varsity 22-17 in one of the most exciting games of the year.

The first half was a battle all the way with first one side and then the other taking the lead. For most of the second half Vancouver held the upper hand, running up a count of 17 to 9 following a half-time count of 9-8 against them.

Next Saturday and Monday Edmonton will be entertained at Brockton Point by Vancouver playing on Saturday and Varsity meeting the visitors on Monday.

MICKEY ION WILL HANDLE COAST ICE GAMES THIS YEAR

VANCOUVER, Nov. 3.—Fred Mickey Ion, who handled hockey games on the Coast for years and worked in the National Hockey League last year, has been signed as chief referee in the reorganized Coast Hockey League, Frank Patrick, president of the association, announced today.

Alex Marling Hurt

Alex Marling, popular pro at the Colwood Golf Club, was hit by a golf ball driven off the tenth tee and sustained a bad cut under the left eye. Alex was rushed into town where his wound was dressed. He will be O.K. in a day or two.

B.C. Amateur Hockey Body Changes Residence Clause

Players Now Eligible for Teams Who Reach City by August 1—Want Better Play-Off Conditions

VANCOUVER, Nov. 3.—Re-electing A. R. Dingman, Vancouver, president, and Stan Smith, Vancouver, secretary-treasurer, the British Columbia Amateur Hockey Association prepared for what should be one of its most successful seasons, tonight. The reports of both the secretary-treasurer and the president, showed that the association had enjoyed the most successful year in its history, from a financial standpoint at least, in 1927-28. The report of Secretary Stan Smith showed that the association had on hand a balance of $3,045.75, after paying operating expenses for the year. This is the biggest surplus the association has had to date. President Dingman, in his annual report, stated that the provincial intermediate playoffs, for the first time in history, had not only paid their way, but realized some profit. Playoffs were held in the junior ranks as well, and the British Columbia champions entered the Dominion playoffs.

After much discussion, it was finally decided to instruct the delegates to the C.A.H.A. annual meeting to ask that body to give the B.C.A.H.A. power to change the residence clause to August 1 instead of May as it now is. It was the opinion of the meeting that British Columbia was in a different situation than the rest of Canada, and the present rule worked hardship.

TANFORAN RACING TO END TODAY
Au Revoir Handicap Will Feature Last Day of Bet- less Meeting in South— Classy Field to Start

LEMONGRASS AND MAUNAOLU WIN

(Special to The Colonist)
TANFORAN, Nov. 4.—Maunaolu, son of Hightime, and Lemongrass, brought about a duo of upsets in the third and fourth events, when they raced to victory under the respective colors of the Leishman and Leishman. Up at the barrier in the third race with the Scoble filly was Mount Elgon, believed unbeatable in the class of players. He seemed to figure at all, and for the day, old Maunaolu showed too much class to be even threatened. The result was foregone after the start.

Racing winds up at Tanforan Sunday, and it can be said the meeting closed from the very start as a great success. The sport was a bit slow to come when the meeting opened three weeks ago, but once the fans got acquainted, most other sports were relegated to the discard. The crowds have been excellent, interest keen and the racing high class.

The Au Revoir Handicap will close before the most cheering ever at a California track, probably, as there were over 25,000 out last Sunday. The Au Revoir stake will have all the class contending, including such thoroughbreds as Shasta Gold, Wirt G. Boyman, Cameo, Bonnie Omar, Rip Rap, Black Spot and Alexander Panagiotis.

Results follow:
First race—Purity course:
Kid O'Dillard (Inneson), 7:00 12:30 12:30

JOCKEY RING RUMORED ON EASTERN TURF

Fator, Coliletti, Pascuma and Catrone, Famous Riders, Quizzed at Recent Investigation

BETS BY "JOCKS" TO BE STOPPED

NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—Is there a jockey ring, so-called? Is there any collusion between the various boys and lads riding race horses on the tracks in New York State? Have they combined to make a "sure thing" of certain results? Ever since Saratoga there have been rumors and reports that three or four jockeys have been telling each other the horse they would bet on and selected a certain horse every day to win.

Then came reports that jockeys were betting large amounts not only on the horse they were riding, but that they had bet and were betting on horses which they did not ride. This was contrary to the rules of racing. And because of it many men who had the good name of the sport at heart told some of the stewards what they had heard. And on the strength of those stories the stewards of the Jockey Club held a meeting several days ago and quizzed four jockeys regarding the rumors. A few things relative to that which have leaked out. No definite or drastic action was taken against Fator, Coliletti, Pascuma and Catrone, the jockeys who were on the carpet. They were simply "advised" not to violate the racing rule—advice that had a sting of warning in it.

JOCKEYS BETTING
Enough was learned to show that the jockeys were betting and not entirely on their own mounts. Of course some things were hidden. That was to be expected. But the admission of Jockey Coliletti that he had bet $25 on a horse at the Laurel track on October 3, a horse which he did not ride, caused no end of talk that the stewards of the Jockey Club failed to take full action in the matter.

Pascuma denied that he had told Fator that he had the biggest bet of his career down on Carr Free, and Catrone denied placing any wagers at any time or place. While racegoers have good cause to criticize the stewards for non-action, still there is some hope that next Spring there will be a change for the better. There are several things that need the attention of the stewards this winter including the night-life of the jockeys, and the operations of several big bookies.

THE GREAT ARMADA
Portion of Ancient Spanish Galleon Found in British Fishermen's Net

A portion of an old Spanish galleon, thought to be one of the Armada sunk by Sir Francis Drake, has been raised near the Plannan Islands, off the Outer Hebrides, by a steam trawler, while fishing in 130 fathoms of water, hauled up a piece of wreckage in its net. It was apparently the bulwark of a large sailing ship, including one rigging and a sleeping berth. On the sides were distinctive designs in hand-sawn leather. The spot has been marked, and it might be the wreck of a treasure ship.

BRENTWOOD COLLEGE WINS AT VANCOUVER
Local Intermediate Team Whitewashes Rowing Club by 22-0 Score in Smart Display

VANCOUVER, Nov. 3.—Brentwood College, of Victoria, displayed one of the best intermediate teams seen here in many a day at Breton Point this afternoon, when the Rowing Club into camp by 22-0. The half-time score was 9-0. Brentwood excelled in speed, precision and tackling, showing excellent training in backing up on both attacking and defensive plays. Nixon, a Vancouver boy, scored three tries, while Campbell, Matthews and Cameron got one each. Two of the tries were converted. Ives, stand-off half, also played a most useful game. The teams:

Rowing Club—Arnott, Murphy, Hockin, Cotton, Henderson, Chanter, Boe, Purber, Spankie, Johnson, White, Rankin, Inlay, Hacking and Turpin.

Brentwood—Robertson, Campbell, Nixon, Matthews, McNeill, Ives, Grier, Cameron, Elmore, Piffard, Farris, Rigby, Harrison, Wooten and Mitchell.

MYSTERY OF WAR
Property belonging to a Lutron soldier missing eleven years has come into the possession of his mother. In 1916 Cecil Coombs, the youngest son of Mrs. Coombs, Lutron, went to France as a lance-corporal with the Suffolk Regiment, and in 1917 was reported missing. Later came the War Office intimation that he was believed killed, and Mrs. Coombs heard nothing further until a small parcel recently was sent to an address at Lutron. There was a short note in German with the wallet which stated that the wallet had been handed to the sender, who wished it returned to the owner. The note was signed "Hans Spies" and the postmark on the parcel was Liebing. A letter is to be sent to the address given in the hope of eliciting further information as to how the wallet came to be in the possession of the sender.

Has Time on His Hands

THE inventor of a new type of calendar and a new clock, John Betts, native of Louth, Township, Ontario, is shown above with his new conception of time-measuring device beside him. Mr. Betts' clock has the figure 1 where the figure 7 is on the present face, so that noon comes at 6, and morning at 1. The calendar is made up of twelve months, each week with seven days, making 365 days in the total year. Mr. Betts claims Biblical authority for his innovation.

C.P.S. Lose Exhibition Basketball to Adanacs

Visiting Hoopmen Nose Out Lumber Crew in Thrilling Game by 31-26 Score—Fidelis and V.M.D. Chalk Up Victories

Dropping in two pretty field baskets and a free throw, with less than two minutes remaining to be played, Hood, husky forward for the New Westminster Adanacs, split defeat for the C.P.S. quintette and victory for his squad in one of the finest exhibitions of basketball ever staged at the Y.M.C.A. gymnasium, by 31-26, last evening. It was anybody's game until Hood dodged his check twice in succession to toss in the deciding points.

The visitors showed more finish than the local team, and their combination play uncovered throughout the tussle was pretty to witness. On the other hand, their shooting was erratic, especially in the first half, due, no doubt, to unfamiliarity of the floor. C.P.S. boys appeared lost at the commencement, and as a result their marksmanship was very poor, and time after time they missed opportunities.

The game opened with both squads playing carefully, and Booth started the scoring for the visitors by registering a free shot. For the next five minutes no score was chalked up, due to the hard checking. Pagenburg evened the count with a free throw. The score stood at 17-8 at half-time. Chiefly through baskets by Crane, Fraser and Butler, Dows, Skillings and Butler were responsible for the local points.

HOCKEY BREAKS THROUGH
Shortly after the rest period hockey got into action and broke through the visiting guards, while "Stew" Skillings added three more much-needed points. Bourne, for Adanacs, put in a nice basket from a difficult angle, but Pagenburg tied the count thirty seconds later, tossing one in from centre. Then the play was nip-and-tuck; first one team would take the lead and then the other. With the score reading 24-24, with four minutes to go, Adanacs broke the tie by dribbling through the defence. Hood was awarded a free shot, with which he made no mistake. Not long after, and time approaching fast, the same player avoided his team's defeat when he scored two field baskets.

Tommy Forbes and Alan Le Marquand were in charge and the teams were:
Adanacs—Fraser (11), Hood (7), D'Easum, Crane (4), Gifford (6), Butler (2), Bourne, Booth (1).

C.P.S.—Dows (2), Rutledge, Hocking (8), Skillings (12), Woodridge (1), Davis, Fagenburg (3).
V.M.D. CHALK UP WIN
In the opening game, V.M.D. won from the J.B.A.A. in the City Basketball League senior men's "B" fixture, 31-13. Play was fast and both quintettes showed great willingness to work. So far the machinery men have yet to taste defeat in their section. Bill Blair and Eddie Vigers were the former recording twelve points and the latter ten. G. Gandy was the pick of the losers with six baskets to his credit. Tommy Forbes handled the game and the teams were:

V.M.D.—Crombie (1), McGavin, W. Blair (12), Wragg, Marchant (8), Viggers (10), Mitchell.
J.B.A.A.—Bull (3), Gandy (6), Moses (4), Parfitt, McCann, Burnett.

FIDELIS COME THROUGH
The Fidelis just managed to squeeze through to a victory over the Victoria College, in the ladies' "B" division, by 21-13. The score is no indication of the play, for it stood deadlocked with three minutes to go. C. Freeman broke the tie and "Torchy" Bailey ran wild by dropping three baskets within the next two minutes to put the game on ice. At the half-way mark the College were leading, 8-4, but in the third and fourth quarters the Fidelis quickly overhauled them and won out in the last few minutes. "Torchy" Bailey was by far the best player on the floor and gathered in twelve points. Bona Macmurelle and Catherine Freeman each turned in sterling games. Jessie Edwards and Alice Code were the College's bright lights. Tommy Forbes refereed and the teams were:

Fidelis—C. Robertson, I. Foubister, Crawford, C. Freeman (4), D. Bailey (12), F. Philbrook, M. Brackenridge, B. Macmurelle (5).
College—A. Code (3), J. Moody, Hammarley (2), J. Edwards (4), Penzer (2), G. Stipe (2).

The young man had been overjoyed at getting a job as commercial traveler, as he had been out of work for many months, but by the time he had been working for a week, and had reached Plymouth, he began to feel rather fed-up. "How are you getting on?" inquired an old hand at the game. "Badly," was the reply. "I have been insulted at every place I have visited. "That's strange," was the reply. "I've been on the road forty years. I have had my samples flung into the street. I have been taken by the scruff of the neck and hurled downstairs, and I don't deny that I have been rolled in the gutter. But I haven't been insulted—never!"

It May Be Urgent

When your Children Cry for It

Castoria is a comfort when Baby is fretful. No sooner taken than the little one is at ease. If restless, a few drops soon bring contentment. No harm done, for Castoria is a baby remedy, meant for babies. Perfectly safe to give the youngest infant; you have the doctors' word for that. It is a vegetable product and you could use it every day. But it is an emergency that Castoria means most. Some night when constipation must be relieved—or colic pains—or other suffering. Never be without it; some mother keeps an extra bottle, unopened, to make sure there will always be Castoria in the house. It is effective for older children, too. Read the book that comes with it.

Fletcher's CASTORIA

Piety General—"Allow me to tell you that you're a puppy, sir!"
Last of an Ancient Roman—"Don't you dare to say that! Are you aware that I am of a long line of—?"
"Silence!" When I want your pedigree I'll drop in at the Kennel Club and get it!"

Mrs.—Oh, Harry, I'm worried about the car!
Mr.—So am I; if we don't trade it in pretty soon we'll own the darn thing.

Going Up!

Nightly, now, her smile is winning new hearts all over America. She is lively Corine Burton, whose New York home is in the New Weston Hotel. Her march to fame includes a season each in "The Music Box" and "The Scandals"; and now, under Chas. Bowler's direction, she's going up in the movies!
"I don't believe in overlooking any point which may help make your presence pleasing," says Miss Burton. "Recently I learned the method of caring for the hair, which is all the rage among New York girls now. It's so easy. All you do is to put a little Danderine on your brush every time you arrange your hair. It makes my hair so easy to dress and holds it in place wonderfully. It has gotten rid of my dandruff. It keeps my scalp and hair so clean and comfortable that I don't shampoo half as often as I used to. It gives my hair such a silky, soft and lustrous appearance that friends comment on it."

Danderine is not oily. It removes the oil film from each strand of hair, restores its natural color, gives it new lustre. It dissolves dandruff, loosens and invigorates the scalp. It is delightfully fragrant. All true stores have the generous every bottle. Lovely, gleaming hair and a healthy scalp for a few cents.

The Church and Its Work

"Of the children of Issachar, which were men that had understanding of the times, to know what Israel ought to do"—I. Chronicles xii, 32

Attention Is Focussed on Retirement, Nov. 12, of Primate of All England

Dr. Davidson Was Youngest Archbishop of Canterbury to Take Office—Church Unity, Reorganization, Missionary Interest and Revised Prayer Book Marked Term

Ending 25 Years of Gloriously Happy, Responsible and Interesting Experiences

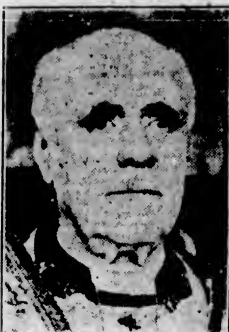

THE reception on October 5 by the Archbishop of Canterbury, along with Mrs. Davidson, of a thousand clergy, their wives and church-wardens of the diocese of Canterbury at which he bade them formal farewell, and the state occasion of October 23, in the Guildhall, when the freedom of the City of London was conferred upon him, are to be followed within a few days by his departure from Lambeth Palace and relinquishment of his high office as Primate of All England and head of the Anglican communion throughout the world.

Many circumstances combine to focus attention on this event. Dr. Davidson is the first of ninety-six bishops, who have held the See of Canterbury in succession from Saint Augustine, to give up his office before death called, as he was the youngest of them all to have taken his burden upon his shoulders. He has been the trusted adviser of three sovereigns, Queen Victoria, King Edward and King George. His retirement is coterminal with the eightieth year of his life, which he reached on April 7, 1928. The fiftieth anniversary, also, of their wedding, will be celebrated by Dr. and Mrs. Davidson on November 12. In addition to these is the further set of circumstances associated with the preparation of the Deposited Prayer Book and its twelve given rejection by the House of Commons. Upon the shoulders of the Archbishop has fallen more than upon any other the heaviest burden, and upon him too the disappointment at the apparent failure of the effort. His conduct during these trying months has been of confidence, and still further added to the wide and cordial appreciation of his wisdom and unselfishness.

LANDMARKS OF LIFE
Dr. Davidson, as well as his successor, Dr. Lang, are Scottish-born, his native place being Edinburgh. A graduate of Oxford, he held a brief curacy at Dartford, Kent. From this period comes the pleasing story of how the young curate ran the risk of his life in tending the sick during a violent epidemic. The next fourteen years, 1877-91, were spent in Lambeth Palace, the seat of the Archbishops of Canterbury, to which he was destined to come twelve years later, bringing with him her whom he courted there, Edith, the daughter of Archbishop Taft, Bishop of Rochester from 1881 to 1895 and Bishop of Winchester, 1895-1903. He was elevated to the See of Saint Augustine at the early age of fifty-five, the youngest, as has been already indicated, of all the thirteen-century-older rosters.

EVENTFUL PERIOD
The quarter-century of the retiring Archbishop's career has been highly eventful. It was disrupted at its centre by the war. It has seen the growth of the Anglo-Catholic movement. The notable Lambeth Conference of 1920 created a new situation in the church life of the world by its "Call to Unity." On the one hand it resulted in prolonged conference with the Free Churches of England and on the other occasioned in order the Conversations of Malines, with representatives of the Roman Catholic Church, both of them be-

"100 PER CENT CHRISTIANITY"

Dr. Sipprell's Evening Topic—Morning: "The Church of the Days to Be"—Will Lecture to Brotherhood

RECEPTION TO DR. LAIRD FRIDAY

Rev. Dr. Sipprell, pastor of Metropolitan Church, will occupy the pulpit tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock. The morning theme is "The Church of the Days to Be." The presentation will go to show that the church of tomorrow must be the church of today, an expanding gospel, a church with liberty as well as loyalty, and one that is ready to recognize that love is the one power that can save the church and save the world. At 7:30 o'clock Dr. Sipprell will speak on "The Rewards of Loyalty or One Hundred Per Cent Christianity." These two practical themes are aimed to provide food for serious reflection.

The Brotherhood will meet on Tuesday at 8 o'clock, when Dr. Sipprell will lead a discussion on "How to Create a Wider Fellowship." The mid-week service will be held at 8 o'clock on Wednesday, November 7. On Friday, November 9, at 6:30 o'clock, a reception will be tendered to Rev. Dr. Laird, treasurer of the United Church of Canada.

WILL GIVE SECOND DOCTRINAL TALK

St. Andrew's Minister Will Declare Tonight "What We Believe and Why"

St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, corner of Douglas and Broughton Streets, will hold the regular services today. This morning the minister, Rev. H. P. S. Luttrell, B.A., will take as the subject of his sermon "What Made Paul a Debtor?" based on Romans 1, 14-16, "I am a debtor both to the Greeks and to the barbarians, for I am not ashamed of the gospel of Christ."

On Tuesday, November 13, Rev. P. W. Borchman, of Australia, will preach and lecture in Metropolitan Church, Thanksgiving and Peace Sunday, November 11.

Centennial Pleased With Anniversary

Rev. M. W. Lees, of Sidney, Will Exchange Pulpits With Mr. Westman Today

Centennial United Church, Gorge Road, will have special services today with the Rev. M. W. Lees, of Sidney, as the preacher. The morning subject will be "A Consecration to a Worth Cause." In the evening the subject will be "The Value of a Man." Mr. Lees enjoys the reputation of being a strong preacher and will bring to his hearers a message of inspiration and hope. The choir will present a strong musical programme of anthems.

Centennial Church has just closed a very successful anniversary occasion. The response in every respect was beyond the expectations of the congregation. Arrangements have now been made to give the church a thorough cleaning and in many ways to brighten the place and make it more attractive.

On Friday evening, November 16, the young people of Fairfield Church will visit Centennial and present the play, "Sleep Lively."

The pastor, Rev. J. P. Westman, will spend the day in Sidney preaching anniversary sermons in that place.

BIBLE EXPOSITOR TO SPEAK HERE

Dr. Charles Inglis, Noted Evangelist of Keswick, England, Coming to Victoria

At the Reformed Episcopal Church on Monday two meetings will be addressed by Dr. Charles Inglis, noted Bible expositor and evangelist, of Keswick Convention, England.

Dr. Inglis is returning to Scotland after an extensive tour of the United States and Canada. In Vancouver, people have been unable to gain admittance owing to the interest in the meetings.

The afternoon meeting at 3 o'clock will be a Bible exposition, and will be held in the schoolroom. At 8 o'clock the subject will be "Scenes I Have Witnessed in Condemned Cells." As a very large attendance is expected for the evening meeting, it will be held in the church.

These meetings are to take the place of the usual monthly fellowship meeting, and Sunday School teachers and Christian workers of other city churches are advised to bring their young people's societies to this meeting.

KNOX TO CELEBRATE YEAR OF PASTORATE

Members Will Be Received by Rev. T. H. Davies and Lord's Supper Observed—Special Music

Anniversary and thanksgiving services will be held next Sunday at Knox Presbyterian Church, corner of Gladstone and Stanley Avenue. The occasion will mark the first anniversary of the Rev. T. H. Davies' settlement as pastor of the church.

"Militant Christianity" (Phillips, p. 22) will be the subject at 11 o'clock. The ordinance of the Lord's Supper will be observed at the close of this service, at which nine new members will be received into fellowship with the church. There will be a special song service at 7:30 o'clock, when anthems and solos will be rendered by members of the choir and outside helpers. Sunday school at 9:45 o'clock.

New Maritime Province

By way of urging the prosecution of church missions along the line of the Hudson Bay Railway, the movement is made from the United Church office that Manitoba will shortly become a maritime province and will be, by water, the next door neighbor to Nova Scotia. This church hopes to see have missions and churches in this area sufficient to constitute a Hudson Bay presbytery.

Ministers of City Will Meet Next Monday

The monthly meeting of the Ministerial Association will be held in the Y.M.C.A. on Monday morning at 10:30 o'clock. The devotions will be conducted by Rev. A. de B. Owen and an address will be given by Rev. Dr. Sipprell, after which the usual business will be transacted.

MINISTERS ARE BRINGING NOTED LECTURER HERE

There will be in Victoria on Tuesday, November 13, an outstanding figure in the person of Rev. Dr. F. W. Borchman, of Australia. Dr. Borchman is now completing a world tour and finishes in this city on Tuesday, November 13, sailing the next day for his own land. Dr. Borchman is a famous essayist, book writer (having twenty books to his credit), preacher, humorist and lecturer. He will preach in the afternoon and lecture in the evening of the above date in the Metropolitan Church under the auspices of the Ministerial Association. There will be no stated admission price, but a generous offering is requested at both services.

Festival of All Saints Extended At St. Paul's

Public attention is called to the fact that the comprehensive festival of All Saints will be continued at St. Paul's Garrison Church, Esquimalt, to include today.

An adjustment of the hours of divine service is planned for today as follows: 8 o'clock, Holy Communion; special military parade service at 10; choral Eucharist at 10:30 (not at the usual hour of 10:30). The later services are as usual; children, 2:30; evensong, 7 o'clock.

LET THE YOUNG MAN SPEAK FOR HIMSELF: TOPIC

At Fairfield United Church the pastor will preach morning and evening, taking for his subject, at 11 o'clock, "Promised Prosperity." In the evening he will conduct his second monthly young people's service, speaking on "A Young Man of Age; Let Him Speak for Himself." A sing-song and get acquainted half-hour will be held in the social hour at the close of the evening service, where all Fairfield young people will receive a hearty welcome.

The music prepared for this morning is an anthem by the choir and a solo by Mr. George Parmar. The evening music a quartette by Messrs. Grant and Barlow and Messrs. Abbott and Jones; and an alto solo, "My Redeemer and My Lord," by Madame Claude.

Challenge to Preacher

In a pulpit at Wimbledon, England, are engraved on the preacher's desk the words: "Sir, we would see Jesus," placed there, as a recent preacher in Westminster Abbey said, as a challenge to the preacher before he begins to deliver his message.

Children's Exhibits on View at St. Alban's

St. Alban's Sunday School will hold its usual monthly service today at 2:15 o'clock, to which all parents and friends are invited. The children's exhibits for the forthcoming cathedral bazaar will be on display. Mr. T. Emmerson, superintendent, will be in charge.

SALVATION ARMY WILL HOLD MANY SERVICES TODAY

Adjutant and Mrs. Merrett, the Victoria commanding officers, will lead today's meetings at the Salvation Army Citadel, Broad Street. Knee drill will be held at 7 o'clock, a holiness meeting at 11; a praise meeting at 3:15, and a salvation meeting at 7:15 o'clock. Sunday school commences at 2 o'clock, and new scholars not attending elsewhere are always welcome. The little tots are kept interested during the Bible lesson with sand tray classes.

The visit of Commissioner and Mrs. Whatmore to the Citadel has given a great deal of pleasure to the officers and members of the local corps. Adjutant Merrett thoroughly appreciated the kindness of all those friends who by their attendance at the Commissioner's missionary lecture helped to make it a success, including the gentlemen who supported him on the platform. Both the Commissioner and Mrs. Whatmore are enjoying their visit here with relatives to the fullest extent, and are charmed with Victoria.

Children's Exhibits on View at St. Alban's

St. Alban's Sunday School will hold its usual monthly service today at 2:15 o'clock, to which all parents and friends are invited. The children's exhibits for the forthcoming cathedral bazaar will be on display. Mr. T. Emmerson, superintendent, will be in charge.

On Friday, November 16, a Winter garden party and entertainment will be held. All proceeds are in aid of the Sunday school funds.

DEAN TO SPEAK ON JOHN BUNYAN

Regular Services Will Be Held Today at Cathedral, Rev. C. S. Quainton, D.D., the Preacher

REV. J. STRACHAN TO BE CHAIRMAN

The Dean of Columbia will preach in Christ Church Cathedral today at the morning and evening services. The services during the day will be as follows: Holy Communion at 8 o'clock and at 11 with sermon, children's service at 3, and Evensong and sermon at 7:30 o'clock.

The Dean will give a lecture tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock in the Memorial Hall on "John Bunyan and Pilgrims Progress." This year the tercentenary of John Bunyan (1598-1688) has been observed in the Old Country and in Eastern Canada. The chairman tomorrow evening will be Rev. J. Strachan, pastor of the First Baptist Church of this city. Mr. Strachan's presence will be particularly appropriate as John Bunyan himself was one of the pioneer Baptists of the Old Country. The Dean's lecture will be again on Wednesday evening next at 8 o'clock. Members are asked to read to the end of the Book of Genesis and also to prepare the second chapter of the text book. The Men's Guild will meet on Thursday at 8 o'clock.

CHICAGO EXPERT AT NEW THOUGHT TEMPLE

Mrs. Davis Will Lecture on Spiritual and Physical Health—"Eternal Youth a Possibility"

At the New Thought Temple today, Mrs. Evelyn Davis, of Chicago, will speak at both services. At 11 o'clock she will take for her topic "The Power of the Spoken Word," and at 7:30 p.m., "The Greatest Thing in the World." Mrs. Davis will give a health lecture on Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock, her subject being "Eternal Youth, a Physical Possibility."

Mrs. Davis comes to this city highly recommended as a character analyst and mental and spiritual educator, as well as a good speaker and an author of several books along metaphysical lines. Of Mrs. Davis, the Los Angeles Advertising Club says: "A gifted speaker, who holds your closest attention. Herself an enthusiast and a living exponent of what can be achieved by the right mental attitude."

Through the close similarity in the two names, the officer of the local Salvation Army corps, Adjutant Fred Merritt, was inadvertently mentioned in this column as having been promoted to the position of Divisional Commander held by Staff-Captain James Merritt.

Has Vestment of Becket

Five broke out recently in the Cathedral of Toronto, one of the finest Romanesque churches in the world. The old cathedral, which was built in the twelfth century, contains a number of pictures by Rubens and other masters and a famous stained glass window presented to it by Thomas a Becket of England.

WAS JESUS HELD TO BE A PATRIOT?

"The International Mind" Is Evening Subject at First Baptist—Communion Service Follows

The fifth of a series of sermons on "How Jesus Met the Problems of Our Day" will be presented this evening at the First Baptist Church. The minister will have for his subject "The International Mind." Was Jesus considered a patriot in His day? Where would following Him in this matter lead us today? This service is at 7:30 o'clock and will be followed by the communion of the Lord's Supper. The Lord's table is open to all followers of Jesus Christ. New members will be received at this service.

The subject for consideration at the morning service will be "The Sacrificial Heart." This service is at 11 o'clock. The church school will meet at 12 o'clock.

Miss E. E. Mercer will be the soloist at the morning service. At the evening service the choir will render Hopkins' "Hear the Voice and Prayer," and Miss Gladys and Miss Bernice Wardell will sing "Ivory Palaces."

The B.Y.P.U. will gather on Monday evening at 8 o'clock, and the midweek meeting of the church will be held on Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock.

Mrs. R. S. Day to Speak at Guild of Health

There will be a meeting of the Guild of Health on Tuesday next, November 6, at 8 o'clock, in the chapel of the Memorial Hall, Mrs. R. S. Day having kindly consented to address the guild on this occasion.

ENTERING HIS SEVENTH YEAR

DR. CLEM DAVIES WILL GIVE SPECIAL PROGRAMME AT CITY TEMPLE

Dramatic Book Sermon Tonight—Will Answer Questions on Sunday Golf, Boxing and Betting

Dr. Clem Davies, who enters on his seventh year of ministry in Victoria today, has prepared a splendid programme of worship for his congregation. He will speak to the children on "The Giant Killer." His morning subject will be "Do Christians Make It Hard to Believe in Christ?" and his evening theme, "Psalms—Singing Sinners," will be a dramatic book sermon taken from Winston Churchill's "The Inside of the Cup."

Continuing his question book feature this evening, Dr. Davies will take up the following queries submitted to him for answer: (1) Should Christians golf on Sundays? (2) Should I take my boys to Saturday boxing bouts? (3) Is it wrong to bet a dollar on a sweepstake? (4) Should one join the Militia when we are striving for peace?

The regular evening message will encompass a discussion on such questions as: Is our economic system Christian? Of what use is the Church? Shall we change our creeds and customs? Has the child just born a fair chance? Ought we to turn Socialists? What shall we do with our divorce laws? Shall the Church accept tainted money? Should one man be allowed to dominate the church? No reservations will be held till further notice for the evening service, it is announced. Dr. Davies will read a play on Monday evening at Temple Hall at 8 o'clock.

Dr. Ernest Hall will speak at the Coliseum this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock on the subject, "Children Come Home to Rest," a plain talk to parents. There will be special music.

Two Cathedrals to Be Consecrated

The consecration of the nave and transept of the vast proportioned cathedral of St. John, New York, is likely to take place on All Saints' Day of 1929. This will be about the time of the consecration of the local cathedral. For the New York edifice $15,000,000 has already been pledged. The north transept is being built solely by women.

St. Matthew's, Langford

Service will be held this evening in St. Matthew's Church, Langford, at 7 o'clock.

"Do you ever work in the garden?" inquired a friend of an eminent financier. "Well," remarked the latter reflectively, "I sometimes water my stock."

The Uncalendared Saints

ALWAYS of interest as one of the minor festivals of the church year, All Saints' Day, which fell on November 1, has made a special appeal these later years on account of the appalling loss of life during the war. The increased poignancy of the perennial mystery of life and death and the deepening sense of loneliness, have given added significance to the belief in the communion of saints which this day brings more prominently before the mind of the Church. It is the day of the uncalendared saints, of the unknown soldiers of the Cross who have fought the good fight and have kept the faith. The commemoration of the innumerable company of faithful witnesses to Christ, whose very number prevented their being honored separately by specially selected days, dates back to the fourth century when the Council observed on the Octave of Pentecost (the present Trinity Sunday) a festival which they called All Martyrs and Saints. It was many years later before this festival was adopted by the Latins. On May 13, A.D. 609 or 610, Pope Boniface IV, who had had the Pantheon of Rome made into a church, dedicated it under the title "St. Mary and All Martyrs," and a service of commemoration of those who had witnessed a good confession for the glory of God and the welfare of the world was held annually thereafter on the anniversary of the consecration. At the very end of the eighth century, the date of this festival was changed to November 1, and became known as the Festival of All Saints. The observance of the Festival spread rapidly and by the middle of the ninth century it was generally observed throughout the West.

Christendom the World Over

Described as a miniature Lausanne Conference by The Christian World, the one-day session of the recent Church Congress of the Church of England, according to Archbishop Germano, consisted of statements by representatives of the Eastern Orthodox, Lutheran and Free Churches regarding the issues involved in bringing the various communions together. An enduring reunion of the Greek Orthodox Church and the Church of England, according to Archbishop Germano, could only be possible were the Catholic nucleus within the Anglican Church to prevail. The representative of the Lutheran Church of Scandinavia, Bishop Amundsen, explained that this church, though Protestant, had never ceased to use the symbolical in worship, as altars, candles, vestments, wafers, cruets and the sign of the cross. Following him, the distinguished Lutheran, Dr. Adolf Delsemann, suggested that church history pointed to the Church of England as the mediating church between Latin and Greek Catholicism on the one hand and Protestantism on the other. If, said he, the Anglican Church was particularly the bridge towards Catholicism, Swedish Lutheranism was the bridge towards Protestantism; and these two bridges were themselves connected, there having been, since 1920, intercommunion between the two.

FREE CHURCHES AND REUNION Speaking for the Church of Scotland, Lord Sands narrowed the issue between Protestantism and Anglicanism to two differences—ordination and church government, the Anglican holding that episcopal ordination was essential, while Presbyterians held that ordination was by presbytery. Reunion at any time within the Church of England was only to be thought of on the basis of the maintenance of the historic episcopate. Dr. A. E. Garvie, the great Congregationalist scholar, made it clear that reordination cannot be a condition of reunion, as the Free Churches of the Church of Christ gave their gift of grace through the ministry of these churches also. Dr. Garvie regretted that at the Lausanne Conference it was not found possible for the unity in the communion service, but held that communion was the consummation of the movement for reunion and not the initiation. Intercommunion, on the other hand, according to Dr. W. F. Lofthouse, of the Handsword Wesleyan College, seems to Wesleyans to be the first step. No particular theory of church government, in his opinion, could find any support in the teaching of our Lord. Canon Garfield, secretary of the missionary council of the Church of England, said that the church, as a whole, is the church overseas, as Hindus and Moslems cannot understand why followers of the same Lord should not share the sacramental meal with each other. The Bishop of Gloucester, president of the Congress, in closing the discussion, said: "I cannot conceive myself accepting reordination, even for the sake of unity. No one should be asked to deny the validity of their past religious life."

VARIOUS CHURCH SERVICES The Metropolitan Church, Toronto, which last night building by fire last winter, will build a large institutional church to minister to the downtown population surrounding it. The 120-year-old Methodist Chapel at Lambeth has been transformed into a cinema church at which elevating pictures will be given nightly, and on Sundays the usual services, followed by a cinema service on the lines of the East End mission services. It is an experiment aimed to win the unchurched of this district.

A month ago Dr. William Outhrie, of St. Mark's, Glasgow, Scotland, sponsored a "Lyric Choreographic Mime," which represented in dialogue, pantomime, and figures the essence of "The Prophet," by Khalil Gibran. The whole was produced on a platform before the sanctuary, which was hidden by a drawn curtain.

PERSONALIA

Of Sir Wilfrid Grenfell, who has been nominated, along with Lord Melchett, for the rectorship of Glasgow University, Dr. Barnes said not long since that he is one of the triumvirate of three greatest living men, which includes Mahatma Gandhi and Dr. Albert Schweitzer. Mr. C. F. Andrews, of the Student Christian Movement in India, is visiting England. He is a friend of Tagore and Gandhi, and is said by Edward Shillito to have won more than any other Englishman the affection of the Indians. Recently he gave a simple evangelical address over the radio.

Dr. John R. Mott, who has concluded forty years with the Y.M.C.A. movement and is taking the chairmanship of the International Missionary Council, at a farewell gathering in his honor stated that he had visited sixty nations and made four world tours as Y.M.C.A. secretary, and had formed a more sympathetic attitude toward Christianity on his later visits.

When the Baptist congregation in New York, of which Dr. Harry Fosdick is minister, enters its magnificent new church on Riverside, it will drop the denominational name and be known simply as "The Riverside Church."

"The careful reader of Bernard Shaw cannot but be struck by the frequency with which Shaw, like Ruskin, expresses himself in the language of Jesus, Paul, and sometimes of Bunyan," is stated by Balfour in his book, "The Problem Play."

Rev. W. A. Cameron of Yorkminster Baptist Church, Toronto, has begun to conduct a weekly page in The Free Press on religious problems. Rev. Mr. Cameron has conducted for years a weekly religious clinic on Monday evenings.

It is expected that the fund to provide adequate comfort for Archbishop and Mrs. Davidson after their retirement will have reached the sum of $15,000. Subscriptions closed on October 31. It will be presented on their golden wedding anniversary and day of retirement, November 12.

Rev. Canon G. Abbott Smith, D.D., D.C.L., has been installed principal of the Anglican Diocesan College, Montreal, in succession to Dr. Eben Rexford. This college co-operates with the Presbyterian and United Church colleges in affiliation with McGill University.

Rev. Dr. J. B. Silex, who is well known in Western Canada, and now a veteran of eleven-one years, recently preached in the church of his boyhood at Frome, Ont., at the 110th anniversary of the church organized by his grandfather, Rev. Joseph Silex, who came from Frome, Somersetshire. Dr. Silex also baptized a Silex baby of the fifth generation of the founder.

A colored agent was summoned before the insurance commissioner, "Don't you know," said the commissioner, "that you can't sell life insurance without a state licence?" "Boss," said the doctor, "you said a month ago, I knowed I couldn't sell it, but I didn't know the reason."

CONSECRATIONS SET FOR 1929

TWO OCCASIONS WILL LINK RELIGIOUS LIFE OF THREE COUNTRIES

New York and Victoria Cathedrals Will Be Consecrated in October of Next Year

The consecration of two cathedrals, whose lofty towers will overlook the sea, one on the Pacific Ocean and the other on the Atlantic, is likely to form two great occasions in the church life of 1929 on this continent. Along with the announcement of the consecration next October of Christ Church Cathedral in the Diocese of Columbia, now being erected here, comes similar news regarding the Cathedral of St. John the Divine, on Riverside, New York City. All Saints' Day has been set as the day of consecration of the finished portion of the magnificent Riverside edifice, for which already $15,000,000 has been pledged.

It may be expected that representatives of both the Church in England and of the Protestant Episcopal Church of the United States may attend both services, an act which would more closely link the Episcopal communions of the three countries. As stated in a recent issue of The Colonist, arrangements are being made for a meeting in Vancouver of the executive council of the Church of England in Canada around October 10, the ceremony here to immediately precede or follow that gathering.

Coming Events

November 10.—The Islamic world will observe the birth in A.D. 570 of Mohammed, the founder of the Moslem faith.

November 12.—The Archbishop of Canterbury and Mrs. Davidson will be presented on their jubilee wedding anniversary, which is also the day of the Primate's retirement. With a fund of $400,000, it is hoped to provide a degree of comfort which would otherwise be denied them.

November 22.—The tercentenary of John Bunyan will be celebrated by the World's Evangelical Alliance in Queen's Hall, London, at which the present Archbishop of York will speak. A choir of 400 voices, conducted by Rev. Carey Bonner, of the National Sunday School Union, will render special Bunyan music.

ANNIVERSARY SET AT CHURCH OF OUR LORD, BLANSHARD ST.

Anniversary music and sermons will be preached to celebrate the fifty-fourth year of the Church of Our Lord, Reformed Episcopal. The coming church year promises to be a very eventful one for the church, as it is expected that the cornerstone of the Bishop Orridge Memorial Hall will be laid, and progress made with at least one unit of the building.

RECTOR TO TELL OF RELIGION IN ENGLAND TODAY

Services will be held in St. Saviour's Church today as follows: At 11 o'clock, holy communion and sermon; 7 o'clock, evensong and sermon. The preacher throughout the day will be the rector, who will sum up his observations within the church and without in England today.

To Stage Entertainment

The annual popular musical and dramatic entertainment by St. Mary's Church choir, Oak Bay, will be given in St. Mary's Hall on Monday and Tuesday, November 5 and 6, at 8 p.m. Following a varied programme of solos, trios and part songs by the adult members of the choir, selections by the chorboys, the interesting comedy, "Bonnie and a Dance by Miss Joyce Finch. With an 'E' will be staged. For this not only has a strong cast been selected but special scenery has been painted by Mr. Stewart Clark.

Preaches in Stable

A Wesleyan minister in England is preaching in a royal stable. Rev. Harry Mortimer has taken charge at the Dome Wesleyan Mission, the famous circular building in London which was once the stable and riding school connected by a subterranean passage with the marine palace built by the Prince Regent.

Calgary Lecturer Here

Mrs. Edith Allen will give a literary lecture at Sons of Canada Hall tonight. Mrs. Allen is pastor at Calgary, Alberta.

Service will be held in St. John's Church, Colwood, today at 11 o'clock.

SPECIAL FENCE TO STOP SNOWDRIFTS

EDMONTON, Alta., Nov. 3.—About twelve miles of the most heavily traveled main roads in various parts of the Province of Alberta will be fenced, under Government auspices, against snowdrifts, the sections chosen for the fencing being those which gave most trouble last winter. Snow fences are not new in Alberta, but this is the first time for the Government to undertake the erection of such structures, the work being in connection with the anti-snowdrift campaign of the Public Works Department. The kind of fence decided upon as likely to prove the most serviceable is the picket and wire-twist type, which will be erected with steel posts and will be placed on private land at a distance of about sixty feet from the middle of the road. The fences will easily be removed in the spring. Four carloads of fencing material are now on the way from Eastern manufacturers.

HAIG IS SENT UP FOR TRIAL

Accused to Appear at Assizes on Charge of Breaking Windows of Automobile on October 31

PRELIMINARY HEARING HELD

Joseph Haig was committed for trial by Magistrate George Jay in the city police court yesterday on a charge of wilfully damaging an automobile, the property of George Mason, on October 31. Eight witnesses testified for the prosecution at the preliminary hearing. Mr. Stuart Henderson, counsel for Haig, stating that the accused reserved his defence. Haig will be tried at the Fall Criminal Assizes, which will be opened at the Court House here on Tuesday, November 13, with Hon. Mr. Justice W. A. Macdonald presiding.

The first Crown witness, George Mason, 628 Johnson Street, said he was a taxi driver and owned a sedan automobile. The car was driven by George Bishop on the night of October 30. Bishop awakened witness between 1 a.m. and 2 a.m. on October 31, and showed him the damaged car. Witness said all the glass in the automobile, except the light, was smashed. The car was taken to the police station, and later was repaired.

George Albert Bishop, 216 Mary Street, driver of Mason's car, told of going to a house at 736 Pandora Avenue at 12:45 a.m. on October 31, in response to a call for a taxi. Ernest Cruise, who had called the taxi, told witness he would come down stairs in a minute. Witness went downstairs with a Mrs. Coward and Cruise followed. He proceeded towards town with Mrs. Coward, and Cruise went in the opposite direction on Pandora Avenue.

WINDOWS SMASHED
Witness told of taking Mrs. Coward to a cafe, and then he returned in a taxi to get Mason's car, which had been left outside 736 Pandora Avenue. On arrival there, he stopped on the other side of the street from the vehicle, and saw Haig walking up and down by the car with something in his hand. Haig then started to chase him, he said, causing him to run up Pandora Avenue. Haig went in the house, came out on the street later, walked around the automobile and broke every glass in it. Witness phoned for the police, and later took the damaged car to be repaired.

Patrick Robert Hoseney, 43 Surrey Block, said he was a glassworker, employed by Mellor Bros., and had received instructions to repair the broken windows in Mason's car. Three windows on each side, the windshield and the rear glass were smashed beyond any further use. The repair bill was $10.00. When the taxi driver came, he went out onto the street and saw the car there. He heard a "kind of a row" behind him and then ran up the street. The taxi driver "grabbed" Mrs. Coward, and ran the other way. Witness said he did not see Haig after he left the premises.

The next witness, Mrs. Sarah Coward, 2515 Turner Street, testified that Cruise, a Mr. Rumble and herself were up at the accused's place on October 30. She left the house shortly after midnight with Bishop, the taxi driver, and went to a cafe. She did not see Haig after he departed from the house.

FINDS BROKEN GLASS
Sergeant Thomas Heatley told of questioning a man named Rumble, who lived at 734 Pandora Avenue, several times in the morning of October 31, and of finding an axe-head with bloodstains on it behind a cookstove in a room. The handle, also stained with blood, was on the floor. There was also blood on the doorknob. He noticed broken glass on the sidewalk and street outside the premises.

William James Rumble, 734 Pandora Avenue, identified the broken axe found by Sergeant Heatley, as belonging to accused, Haig. Witness said he (Rumble) had broken the axe while chopping wood. He couldn't tell how the marks of blood happened to be on the axe-head and the handle. He said he didn't see the automobile in the street.

The last Crown witness, Constable Robert Ireland, said he saw Haig at 1 a.m. on October 31 at Blanchard and Pandora. Haig staggered across the street, had his head down, and was flourishing a white bottle in his hand. He was only partly dressed, his nose had been bleeding, and there was blood on the second finger of his right hand. Witness brought the accused to the police station, and rendered first aid. Returning to Pandora Avenue, witness noticed that the eight windows in Mason's car were all smashed, and there was a quantity of broken glass on the sidewalk and the street. He found an empty beer bottle in the back seat of the car.

Haig pleaded guilty to a second charge against him, namely, of being intoxicated in a public place, and was fined $25, or ten days in jail in default of payment.

RECEPTION TO BE HELD FOR PASTOR

The congregation of Knox Presbyterian Church at Sooke will hold a public reception and "at home" on Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock in the church, in recognition of the elevation of the pastor, Rev. S.
